Roy Cohn Quits as Chief Counsel For M'Carthy Senate Committee

French, Reds Agree on Pact For Indochina

GENEVA (AP) — East and West, with the United States standing aside, agreed late today to partition Viet Nam roughly along the 17th parallel leading from Quang Tri on the coastal road to Savannakhet in Laos.

The French source said the issues involving Viet Nam were all settled. Only a few language difficulties remained in the peace provisions concerning Laos and Cambodia.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain and Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov left the meeting where final details of the peace were being completed late in the afternoon for an hour's recess. Obstacles to an armistice appeared surmounted and conference quarters said an agreement before midnight appeared certain.

A highly reliable source, who declined to be identified, said the Communists have agreed the United States would not be listed among the powers approving the multilateral general declaration to be issued at the close of the session.

It was learned that the Chinese Communists, who originally asked that the United States be included in the list, were now not inclined to insist on this point. This block, thrown into the negotiations at the 11th hour, had dampened optimism for a while.

A few minor issues remained to be settled before the midnight deadline.

France's determined, fast-moving Premier Pierre Mendes-France has promised to resign if he does not get an armistice by that hour. Although all issues were not decided as he went into his final day, he appeared to have won his gamble.

One highly placed Western source, previously pessimistic about the chances for peace, said conclusion of a settlement was almost certain.

Pham Van Dong, foreign minister of the Communist-led Vietminh and once the stiffest and most unyielding of the Red representatives here, told correspondents he was "absolutely sure" of an armistice.

It was expected that the full nine-party conference would remain in session today until a ceasefire was signed.

Reports from various conference sources indicated an armistice agreement was shaping up along these lines:

1. Viet Nam would be partitioned "temporarily" at approximately the 17th Parallel, with Ho Chi Minh and the Vietminh taking over the North and the French-sponsored Viet Nam government of ex-Emperor Bao Dai retaining the South.

2. The Vietminh and the French would withdraw their troops from the other two Indochinese states of Laos and Cambodia, leaving the French-sponsored royal governments in control.

3. French military personnel would remain in Laos, Cambodia and south Viet Nam to help the three states develop defense forces.

4. Viet Nam would be reunited by supervised elections in both North and South, to be held at an agreed future date.

5. South Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia would be barred from participation in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) which Western sources last night said the United States, Britain and France had agreed to form to oppose further Communist penetration in that area.

6. The armistice would be supervised by an international commission composed of Canada, India and Poland. A unanimous vote would be required for decisions on issues which might lead to a resumption of hostilities; otherwise only a majority vote would be required in the commission.

(The New York Times in a dispatch from Geneva said Communist insistence on inclusion of the United States in the list of countries to supervise the armistice was dropped in exchange for a Western agreement to withdraw opposition to the Communist demand that Cambodia be allowed to keep only 7,000 men under arms.)

Auto Mishap Takes Life of Marion Man

Car Darts Forward, Crushing Him Against Back Wall of Garage

A 71-year-old Marion man was fatally injured last night when he was pinned between the front bumper of an automobile driven by his wife and a brick wall of the garage at their home.

Gaines L. Rush of 142 Uhler Ave. was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital shortly after the accident happened at about 10:45 p.m.

Multiple Fractures

He suffered a crushed chest, a possible skull fracture, and multiple contusions, cuts, abrasions, and fractures of the limbs and body. He was the city's fourth traffic fatality this year. His death raised the county-wide total to 16.

The accident occurred when he and Mrs. Rush returned home from a visit to an Upper Sandusky funeral home to pay their respects to a friend who had died there.

He drove on the return trip home and on their arrival at their garage, stopped the car, got out and opened the garage doors, after which he stepped inside the two-car garage.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Rush slipped into the driver's seat and was preparing to drive the car into the garage.

Foot Slips on Pedal

Police called to investigate the accident reported that apparently her foot slipped from the brake pedal onto the gas pedal, causing the car to dash forward.

Neighbors who talked to Mrs. Rush said that she could not remember exactly what happened. They said that he may have fallen down in front of the car and she became excited when she failed to see him standing. He had been suffering from a heart ailment and the possibility that he suffered an attack and fell in front of the car was not discounted.

Police reported that the car apparently struck the partly opened doors of the garage and also did some damage to the back and north wall of the garage which faces on an alley at the rear of the Rush property.

The garage was too short for the car to be parked straight in and it normally was parked at

Park's Arts-Craft Program Is Popular

Children Instructed On Weekdays by Cora Lehner

To most people who pay a casual visit to the Lincoln Park playground, the only one operated by the city, the main activities would seem to be softball, horseshoes, basketball, badminton and other active sports.

But nestled away at the north end of the playground area in an open building for five days a week will be a group of noisy smallfry taking part in an extensive arts and crafts program.

THE ARTS AND CRAFTS program, designed for the smaller users of the playground facilities, is conducted five days a week by Miss Cora Jane Lehner of Prospect, only woman member of the playground staff. Splitting the supervision of activities for the more active boys are three male staff members, Walker Huffman, Paul O'Rourke and William Cover.

Miss Lehner greets her young charges every morning at 9 o'clock and until noon serves as an instructor, a baby sitter and part-time mother. The children in her program range in age from 4 to 13 years but most are in the younger categories.

Miss Lehner carefully instructs her group in the finer points of weaving lanyards, making metal coasters and pot holders, braiding aluminum and plastic bracelets and in making shell jewelry. A few of the very youngest are given instruction in making jewelry and other do-dads from macaroni. Coloring and water painting also take up a major share of the time.

The children, usually numbering between 19 and 25, turn out every day, Monday through Friday, for the program. A few sometimes hang back but after watching their young friends enjoy the work for a few minutes, they shed their bashfulness and join in with an equal amount of vigor.

ALTHOUGH THE arts and crafts program officially closes at noon, Miss Lehner is far from finished with the little ones. In the afternoon, games of many sorts are played and she usually is called upon to take part in them. Many of the boys, however, desert the crowd in the afternoon for a softball session or a set on the badminton courts.

Miss Lehner is planning to expand her group's activities later in the summer. Plans are currently being studied for the smallfry to present a puppet show before the season ends. Miss Lehner reports her plans are being held up by the vacation season.

Many of the children are leaving for vacations with their parents and she is unable to tell which ones will be available from one week to the next.

The director of the arts and crafts program was chosen from a list of applicants for the job late last spring by Huffman, who is recreation director for the city of Marion during the summer months. Miss Lehner will be a junior next year at Otterbein College in Westerville where she is majoring in home economics.

Letter Aired As Senators Seek Ouster

Decision Is Disclosed By McCarthy Before Showdown Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) today announced the resignation of Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel of his Senate Investigations subcommittee and No. 1 target of members demanding a staff shake up.

McCarthy made the announcement in a statement just two hours before a scheduled meeting at which committee members seeking the scalps of Cohn and others were set to seek a showdown vote.

"The resignation of Roy Cohn must bring great satisfaction to the Communists and fellow travelers," McCarthy said.

Cites 'Smears and Pressures'

"The smears and pressures to which he has been subjected make it clear that an effective anti-Communist cannot long survive on the Washington scene."

McCarthy made public a letter in which Cohn said he was resigning because "there appears to be a lack of unanimity among the members of the investigations subcommittee upon the question of continuing my services as chief counsel."

Actually, the committee was reported to be hned up 4-3 in favor of firing Cohn.

Before McCarthy's announcement, there had been widely published reports that Cohn was resigning.

Cohn Quoted

The Chicago Tribune quoted Cohn as saying "I feel that my helpfulness to the subcommittee has been brought to the vanishing point. In any future investigation in which I appeared as chief counsel, all the slanders voiced against me would be repeated to minimize the evidence presented."

Cohn's resignation letter was dated yesterday. McCarthy's prepared statement of comment on it bore today's date, and was released in his absence from his office.

While McCarthy did not state specifically that he was accepting the resignation, he spoke of the young lawyer's withdrawal as an accomplished fact.

He said:

"The resignation of Roy Cohn must bring great satisfaction to the Communists and fellow travelers. The smears and pressures to which he has been subjected make it clear that an effective anti-Communist cannot long survive on the Washington scene.

'Unrivaled Service'

"He has rendered perhaps unrivaled service in the conviction and exposure of Communists and spies in this nation. He prosecuted Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the atomic spies; William Remington and the top leaders of the Communist party. He exposed Communist infiltration in the United Nations. With this subcommittee he guided the exposure of Communist infiltration in the government Printing Office, the Voice of Amer-

Civic Leaders Of Marion, Ind., Will Visit City

Group Working for Airport Plans Tour Of Local Facilities

In an effort to demonstrate the advisability of scheduled commercial service between two cities of the same name, civic leaders of Marion, Ind. will visit Marion, O. Thursday.

Marion, Ind., officials have been interested in a program which would include a municipal airport with local airline service.

Will Fly in Thursday

They will charter a plane Thursday and fly from Kokomo to Marion, O. to meet with local Chamber of Commerce Aviation Committee members and tour the airport. The two cities are approximately the same size and have many common civic problems.

When Marion, Ind. does receive air service, Lake Central Airlines will tie the city into its existing route, which now includes Marion, O.

The group from Indiana will be under the leadership of Dick Lindsay, editor of the Marion, Ind. Chronicle. Representing the local town will be Tom Pendergast, chairman of the chamber's subcommittee on aviation.

Mayor To Speak

After arrival at the airport here, the group will have lunch at the airport and will be addressed by Mayor Harold Robinson, C. E. A. Brown, Ohio aeronautical director; and Dave Krimendahl, chairman of the Indiana state aeronautical commission.

Representing Lake Central will be James W. E. Humphrey general sales manager, and Melvin T. Blaney, district sales manager of Ohio.

During the afternoon, the visiting representatives will tour the local airport and learn of the operations and maintenance of the field. The Indiana group will then return by air to Kokomo and drive to Marion, Ind.

Thunderstorms Chase Heat in Some Sections

Midwest Gets Relief; Most of Central Area States Still Sweating

By The Associated Press

More blistering heat scorched the central United States today.

It boosted hog, poultry and crop losses and ran the nation's heat deaths in two weeks to 260.

The temperature was 100 degrees or higher yesterday from Texas to South Dakota.

However, local thundershowers brought scattered relief in parts of the swelterbelt and somewhat cooler Canadian air began pushing into the Midwest.

The combined effect of heat and drought had farm advisers worried in Illinois, a major corn and livestock producing state.

County fair advisers reported wholesale deaths of hogs and chickens in central Illinois.

High temperatures included: Wichita, Kan. 107; Kansas City 109; St. Louis 102; Tulsa 105; Omaha, Neb. 103, Vandalia, Ill. 100, and Huron, S. D. 100.

At Little Rock, Ark. thundershowers kept the temperature down to a maximum of 82, compared with 106 the previous day. A surge of cooler Canadian air kept the mercury to 79 degrees in Dickenson, N. D. compared with 100 on Sunday.

Thundershowers sprinkled the Rocky Mountains, Central Plains and lower Mississippi Valley.

Some cooling occurred in the Pacific States but temperature changes in most other sections of the nation were minor.

Missouri has had the heaviest heat toll this month with 94 deaths.

Praise Local Merchants

Bus Officials Optimistic Over Chances of Success

Officials of Marion City Lines today held forth the hope that local operations will soon be on a sound footing, assuring Marionites of bus service from now on without fear of interruptions because of financial difficulties.

Francis Pogue, local manager for the Marion division of Springfield City Lines, Inc., said that public use of the buses should pick up in early fall helping to put the company in the black during the fall and winter months.

HE PRAISED Marion businessmen for their assistance in getting the bus company started and in offering to extend their aid when asked to do so.

A contribution of $4,500, in the form of ticket purchases, enabled the company to begin its Marion operations last April, and yesterday the local businessmen agreed to subsidize the company by another $1,600, in the event that more help is needed.

IN THE CONTRACT signed yesterday by the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce and the bus company, the merchants agreed to share equally with the company any possible operating loss from July 12 to Oct. 1, up to a $1,600 maximum. Pogue noted that any remainder of the original $4,500 fund will be applied against possible losses for this three month period. In return the

Woman Given Sentence on Gaming Count

KENTON — Mrs. Lula Herge of Lakeview was given a maximum sentence and fine by Common Pleas Judge Arthur D. Tudor here Monday after pleading guilty to a charge of exhibiting a gambling device.

Mrs. Herge was sentenced to 90 days in the Toledo workhouse and fined $500. In addition, she was put on one-year probation and ordered to post a $500 security bond for the probation period when she is released from the Toledo workhouse. She had changed a not guilty plea to guilty midway in her trial Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Herge, Philip Wisse, 62, of Kenton, and M. L. Anderson of near Kenton were indicted by the June term of the Hardin County grand jury as the result of a shooting at a vacant farmhouse owned by Anderson on June 25.

Wisse was indicted by the jury for exhibiting a gambling device and carrying a concealed weapon and Anderson was charged with running a building for gambling purposes. Anderson's trial is set for Monday, July 26.

Wisse, who was seriously wounded in the shooting, is still at San Antonio Hospital here and will be arraigned in court when he is released from the hospital. Details of the shooting have never been revealed.

Mrs. Herge said she had followed Wisse on June 25 to the vacant farm house four miles south of Kenton, where a game was to be held later in the evening. She said as she pulled into the driveway, Wisse came out of the house, saying that he had been shot and to take him to the hospital. Mrs. Herge drove Wisse to San Antonio Hospital here. Hardin County Sheriff Clarence Brown's deputies later arrested Wisse.

Goodrich Plant Workers Vote To Okay Strike

Authorize Leaders To Call Walkout if Contract Talks Fail

Threat of a strike of workers at the B. F. Goodrich Co. plant near Marion loomed larger today after members of the local United Rubber Workers were reported to have voted Monday to strike should negotiations now in progress break down or fail to produce a satisfactory agreement.

The contract between the union here and the company expires within the next week. By their vote yesterday, union members authorized their officials to call a strike if a new contract is not agreed upon by that time.

Negotiations in Progress

Negotiations are now in progress at Cincinnati. The company Monday offered the workers a five-cent-an-hour increase in basic wages and a five-cent increase in incentive pay.

Should a strike take place at the plant, about 150 of the 175 workers at the plant would be idled.

Goodrich officials said they felt a raise of only three cents per hour was justified at this time, but were offering the five cents to keep in line with offers made by other rubber companies.

Workers at the plant, which is located at Green Camp, are engaged in production of high pressure hoses.

Strike Notice Filed

The union filed a notice of intent to strike two months ago, as required by law. Negotiations have been under way since that time. The wage talks which are now in progress are part of the negotiations on an industry-wide basis. A strike is already under way against the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co.

U. S. Rubber Co. workers in Akron are continuing work past their contract expiration date on a day-to-day basis.

No indication has been made by either side in the Goodrich talks whether the same agreement will be reached.

The union is reported to be asking an increase of seven and one-half cents an hour. Negotiations between Goodyear and the United Rubber Workers are expected to set the pattern for contracts with

Not Candidate, Jenkins Says

Out of Senate Race, Tennesseean Claims

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Ray H. Jenkins, said today he will not permit his name to go on the November general election ballot for U. S. Senator regardless of whether he is nominated in the Republican primary next month.

"Positively, definitely and finally I am not a candidate and will not be a candidate this year," said Jenkins, Knoxville lawyer who gained the public eye as special counsel in the televised Army-McCarthy hearings in Washington.

Despite his public announcement July 3 that he was not a candidate, Jenkins' name will be on the ballot as a candidate for the GOP senatorial nomination in the Aug. 5 primary.

He failed formally to notify the state Republican primary board of his intention not to run although he had been qualified as a candidate. Robert C. Gregory of Memphis is the other qualified Republican candidate.

U.S. Prestige Hurt

Agreement on Partition Finds Vietnamese Bitter

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)— American prestige in Viet Nam, largest of the states of Indochina, appears to have hit its lowest ebb since World War II.

Until a few days ago, the United States could still count on the friendship of some element of the population—anti-Communist Vietnamese in the North and the Nationalist government of Catholic leader Ngo Dinh Diem.

But reports from Washington that President Eisenhower's administration now accepts the principle of partition of the country seem to have wiped away much of this good will.

Criticism Mounts

In the closing days of the Geneva conference and on the verge of a possible cease-fire in the long and exhausting war, the United States stands discredited in the eyes of many elements of the population.

It was to save this population from communism that the United States contributed billions to the Indochina war effort against the Vietminh and substantial civilian aid now being directed to help the areas in the North. The general feeling in Viet Nam now appears to be that the United States didn't do enough, and much of what it did wasn't done right.

The aid program, for example, is a major cause of dissatisfaction among Vietnamese nationalists.

Directed Aid Preferred

"Instead of giving us aid, money and materiel through the French, why doesn't the United States turn it over directly to us?" one prominent Vietnamese asked recently. "In this way Viet Nam would be able to stand on her own feet, feel herself really independent, and the impression that the United States is siding with France in an attempt to keep us under her control would be eliminated."

Filibuster Charged

Knowland Blasts Delay Over Atomic Energy Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The debate-weary Senate meets two hours ahead of schedule again today with little apparent hope for a quick vote on atomic energy legislation which has blocked almost all other action since last Tuesday.

Foes of an amendment which would spell out authority of the Atomic Energy Commission to sign a private power contract for the Tennessee Valley held the floor when the Senate finally quit last night after 13½ hours of deliberation.

Says Democrats Stalling

Pressing for action, Republican Leader Knowland of California last night charged a group of Democrats with trying to talk the bill to death.

Knowland said he intends to keep the Senate in session at least 12 hours a day until action on the bill is completed. He said it will not be laid aside for other legislation, but added the entire legislative program is threatened by an "obvious filibuster."

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said chances appeared slim that the Senate would be able to adjourn by the July 31 target set by Knowland and other GOP strategists.

Complete Revision

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), a leader in the fight against the proposed AEC power contract, had been speaking for more than seven hours when Knowland made his filibuster charge. Gore denied any such attempt but said the bill merited full debate.

The 104-page measure would revise the entire atomic energy law, giving the President greater power to exchange information with foreign governments and permitting private development of electric energy from atomic materials.

Most of the argument has center-

Left-Over Salads Placed On Army's Danger Lists

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The U. S. Army now is giving out cooking hints.

Taking note of the increased danger of food spoilage in hot weather, it advised that the best thing you can do with a bowl of left-over salad is throw it away.

Preventive medicine experts in the office of the Army surgeon general said the same advice goes for chicken, tuna or other summer salads made with mayonnaise or salad dressings, for custards, cream-filled pies, deviled eggs, cream sauces or "made" dishes such as seafood casseroles.

It is not a waste of food to throw such dishes away, the Army said. The gesture may save your family many a tummy-ache. Dishes based on egg, milk, mayonnaise or salad dressing can carry the invisible menace of staphylococci—the bacteria that causes the most common type of food poisoning. The Army also advised that dishes with these ingredients be kept cold and mixed as near serving time as possible.

More than 3,000,000 people in the world have malaria, according to the World Health Organization.

THESE SMALL FURS come in all pelts and all colors. Newcomers this season are such things as pink mink, pink beaver and blue ermine.

But the furs priced within the budget of the average woman include such things as blond skunk, honey-colored squirrel and let-out muskrat. Used in imaginative little stoles, these furs are effectively worn with suits in spring and fall, or as evening wraps in summer. And many are priced so gently as to be within reach of the thrifty career girl or young wife who has to watch her pennies

Particularly popular for fall is the fur blouson, which is a little jacket with a drawstring waistline or belt, cut on much the same lines as the famous Eisenhower jacket of World War II. Those with the drawstring waist can be worn either bloused or straight, open or closed. They are effective in such modestly priced furs as white or blond muskrat, beige rabbit, or charcoal gray mouton.

Norwegian blue fox is another fur gaining in popularity, and widely used in flattering stoles which are equally effective for day or evening wear.

The perennial mink coat is getting some stiff competition this season from the so-called budget furs, which have been glorified and glamorizing by new techniques which bring the high styling of luxury furs into the budget bracket.

AMONG THE NEW STYLES in "little fur" for the fall are these squirrel and muskrat creations
LEFT: Honey squirrel, an old favorite with a new complexion, this sleek fur is used in a versatile tie-stole, small enough for the petite woman, budget priced.
RIGHT: Let-out muskrat, proportioned for the small figure and priced for the modest budget, this snug stole has new cowl effect. Designed by Georges Henri.

Burro Still Holds Modern Day Spot

LAREDO, Tex. — (UP) — The burro still has a place in this day of motor cars, Antonio Cavazos believes. He has raised and imported burros for 50 years.

The market is still good, Cavazos said. The burros are used in donkey baseball games, as pack animals in the mountains, for sheep-herding, and by hunters to carry equipment.

Cavazos said many of the burros are sold for children to ride or drive. Some of the youngest, gentlest animals, he said, make good pets for crippled children.

Cavazos has a ranch near Villaldama, Nuevo Leon State, Mexico. He raises some burros there and buys others. He has pens on both sides of the international boundary—in Nuevo Laredo, Mex., and Laredo, Tex., where he keeps the animals until they can be sold and shipped to buyers in the United States.

The burros coming into the United States have to be dipped to kill ticks and other insects. Then the burros are tagged with a tin plate tied to a rope around the neck. Cavazos formerly tagged his burros with pieces of cardboard, but he had to change to metal ones because the burros often ate the paper tags before they got to their destination.

Giant New Cathedral Nearing Finish in a Columbia Salt Pit

BOGOTA — (UP)—An underground cathedral as large as that of Notre Dame in Paris and larger than any church in Colombia, is nearing completion in the deep salt mines at Zipaquira, 38 miles north of this capital.

The mines, in a branch of the eastern range of the Colombian Andes, are the property of the nation and are managed by the official Bank of the Republic. They have been worked from pre-conquest times when the Chibchas lived on the Bogota Savanna, ignorant of the existence of other continents and of cults other than those of the moon and the sun.

Many systems of working the mines have been used during the long period of exploitation. Blasting with dynamite was the favorite one for many years. This last system left in its wake huge driftways with rugged walls, which were forgotten when modern methods did away with dynamite and its consequences.

When the Colombian architect, Jose Maria Gonzalez Concha, who was educated in Italy, visited the forgotten driftways, he thought that these could be turned into a "salt cathedral," which would keep the rough walls, the silence and the sombre stateliness of the mines. His thought became a project and was accepted by the Bank of the Republic. Gonzalez Concha was dedicated to this work when he died a year ago.

Since then, another architect, Alfonso Rodriguez Orgaz, has directed the work, which will be finished in a year or so.

Last year, 217,047 people visited the unfinished cathedral. Some 5,612 vehicles have gone right up to its entrance, since the salt mines can be traversed by car.

The "rough" work of this singular construction, that is, the transformation of the dark driftways into vaults, is already finished. The architect will now turn to the finishing and decoration. Some altars, lighting, floor paving and the platform for the choir are still to be done.

This underground cathedral has a nave and two side aisles. Thirteen square salt pillars divide the aisles from the nave. The nave and the two side aisles make up the body of the cathedral. Another aisle goes around the apse, on the left, and leads to the high altar.

The "nave of The Calvary," as it is called, ends with the high altar. This is crowned by a great cross, carved from a salt block cross, carved from a salt block

The right aisle, that of "Our Lady of the Rosary" ends in an altar, which also bears that name. The left aisle, called "the Baptistry," will be used for baptisms.

The aisle around the left side of the apse is called "Aisle of the History and the Nativity." Four great sculptured groups will be placed in it, representing the Gospel subjects of "The Nativity," "The Annunciation," "The Descent from the Cross" and "The Prayer in the Garden of Olive"

The cathedral will have 10 other altars, besides the stations of the Via Crucis. All of these altars will be carved into the salt walls, since the salt rock, on being worked, takes the appearance of finely polished stone.

Indirect lighting will be used to bring out the characteristics of this building. It will consume about 120 kilowatt hours, since 150 spotlights of 1,000 watts each, will be installed.

The choir platform will be built on a salt rock stand, held up by the two pillars on the right, nearest to the high altar. The floor will be covered with colonial-style clay tile. An ornamental wooden fence will stand at the entrance of the cathedral. The walls will remain bare and unpolished. They will show the marks of the dynamite blasts; their rough markings were left to symbolize the life of the miners who have thrown all the ardor of their Catholic faith into this underground cathedral as a monument to their devotion.

Auto Leaps Curb After Crash, Kills Cleveland Girl, 3

CLEVELAND (AP) — A little girl sat eating frozen custard yesterday on the front steps of a drug store. Then an automobile crashed into another car and bounced up on the sidewalk, crushing her to death.

The girl, three-year-old Helen Grigore, was pinned to the drug store wall, along with her two-year-old sister, Diane, and a family friend, John Vance, 65, who had taken the children for a treat.

Diane was treated for cuts and later released from St. Luke's hospital, along with two adults and two children in the other car who also suffered minor injuries.

Police identified the driver of the wild car as John Hewins, 30. They said Hewins fled the scene of the accident but was picked up and held for questioning after he returned to his wrecked car.

IN THEIR PRIME

JAFFREY, N. H. — (UP) —The five men who beat nine other teams this season for the championship of the Jaffrey Federated Church Bowling League are mighty proud of themselves. They should be. The youngest of the five is 61 years old, the oldest, 79 years old.

Cincinnati Redleg rookie pitcher Art Fowler comes from a large family. He has five brothers and four sisters.

SOUNDS REASONABLE

FORT WORTH, Tex. — (UP)— Judge Dave McGee wanted to know why a drunken driving defendant before him for the third time in four months kept getting picked up. "Because the officers keep checking me," replied the man, who was given a 15-day jail term.

Peat in its natural state is 90 to 50 per cent water.

Liberation

By George Sokolsky

I am often asked why it is that the people of Asia succumb so readily to the Marxists. To many Westerners, it is unbelieveable that the people of the East, concerning whom Europeans often hold fantastic views, should accept the materialistic, atheistic notions of Marxism.

Before one attempts to analyze this inquiry, it is necessary to ask, what is meant by the people of any country China for instance, is a polglot nation of many different races; Indochina is the same, so are India, Indonesia, Malaya, even the Philippines

In a word, no nation in the East of Asia, except Japan and Mongolia, consists of a racially homogeneous people. Often these various races dislike each other and fight each other whenever no strong power exists to prevent them from fighting each other.

LINGUISTICALLY each country in the East of Asia is full of tongues There are a few lingua franca such as Mandarin Chinese or Hindu or in some areas English or pidgin English, but except for the educated classes, most people speak local languages or local dialects.

One of the principal struggles in every nationalist movement in each of these countries has been to find a language that could be used as a common denominator

Of course, the written languages tend to be stabilized and are so in Chinese, in Sanscrit, in Arabic and in other literary languages.

Those who can read have the advantage of the written word but in all these countries, illiteracy is very high. That does not mean that the illiterates do not know what is going on.

In every tea house, in every place where people gather, there are those who lecture and speak and pass gossip. Nowadays, radio also has, to an extent, been established, under government auspices.

This lack of homogeneity is emphasized by localism — association with the smallest geographic or political unit A man will speak of himself as belonging to Canton or Mandras rather than to China or India.

LOCALISM is so deeply ingrained that pride in a village is greater than pride in the nation The nationalism of the past half century has been a struggle against localism with a varying degree of success, depending upon education

Although I cannot know what the Communists are doing about localism, my estimate would be that they are emphasizing it, as they have done in Russia, because on the principle of divide and conquer, it strengthens their power

They now use the term, self-determination, to describe this trend

On one point the whole of Asia, is united and this unity crosses all racial, linguistic and religious differences, and that is the universal antagonism to the "White Man" who came to their countries by the sea He came as a conqueror to take their lands and to govern them He exploited them economically, often to their advantage as well as his, but he introduced innovations which were resented.

His social system was different from theirs and often was offensive, particularly in sex relations He set himself up as a class apart, almost as a caste, antagonizing the local upper classes by his assumptions of superiority and never winning over the lower classes who regarded him as an ill-mannered upstart.

"White" superiority never established itself among Asiatics, as, for instance, the recognized superiority of the scholar.

THE RUSSIANS did not come to any Asiatic country by sea Theirs was a slow infiltration and assimilation over centuries.

Many Russians are of Tartar, Turkish and Mongol origin For instance in 1923, the Russian ambassador to China was Leo Karkhan His name is Asiatic, of Turkish-Mongol origin, The Russians readily intermarried with natives, not having any sense of race prejudice This was as true in Czarist as in Soviet times.

The Russian does not gag on native foods. Many of his social habits are not unlike those of natives To a degree, the same can be said about the German who was the least unpopular of Europeans

Opposition to the "White Man" —and the Russian was never included in this category—is the unifying force in Asia which the Communists are using to their advantage

No Western country has as yet, devised any propaganda to offset this To it the Communists have given the word "Liberation," and nothing that has thus far been done by the West has lessened the unifying force of this word

Fight to Success

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Fighting between married people often ends in black eyes and divorce suits.

But 22 years of almost continuous verbal warfare have made

HAL BOYLE

Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich into one of Hollywood's most successful husband-and-wife marrying teams.

Their long wordy quarrel has resulted in several jointly written Broadway plays, 25 movie scripts, and an annual income in the high clear financial stratosphere somewhere above $50,000

"But if we take time off to do a play, as we have this year, we sometimes don't earn a nickel," said Miss Goodrich.

BOTH STARTED out as actors They turned to writing during lean seasons. After their third play, "Up Pops the Devil," made the grade on Broadway, they went to Hollywood, married, and settled down with the M-G-M Studio

"We were in the doghouse for a long time," Miss Goodrich recalled. "It was easy to get lost out there then The studio had 155 writers, and everybody was taking a fling at everybody else's script

"Now they have only 30 writers, and they cast a writer almost as they do an actor for a part They try to fit the writer to the kind of material he is best at"

Frances and "Hacky" hit paydirt first with "The Thin Man" Among other well known screenplays they fought out together are "Ah, Wilderness," "Father of the Bride," and their recently completed "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers"

—:—

FOR MUTUAL SAFETY many collaborating teams divide a script into acts, and the partners write alternate scenes But the Hacketts believe fighting makes good writing Each does the same scene, and then comes the nerve-wearing job of piecing them together

"We fight, fight, fight—every line of the way" said Frances

"—And rewrite rewrite, rewrite" murmured Hackett

"We used to have separate rooms but now we write together in the same room and that's better," continued his wife "We're closer in the clinches We don't have so far to walk to fight, do we Hacky"

"Um-m-m-m," murmured Hackett

"I think it's a good thing we fight so much over our work," said Frances "That way we avoid the quarrels that other married people get mixed up in We never fight at any other time, do we, Albert?"

"Oh, not much anyway," murmured her husband.

"Listen, Hackett," said Frances "that three days I didn't speak to you—it was a quarrel about work Remember? It's more interesting to fight about work than about whether you can afford a new dress"

"M-M-M-M," murmured Hackett

IN 1939 they both wearied of the writing strain and let their typewriters rust for three years

"It was a lovely nervous breakdown," said Frances "And we enjoyed it together. We just broke down at the typewriter and started crying, and neither of us could stop crying"

"In a relationship like ours," said Hackett, "if one partner gets sick he soon puts the other one in the same condition"

Now they pick the scripts they want, knock off often for long vacations abroad together to keep from getting into a writing rut.

"We do everything together," said Frances, smiling "Poor Hackett He never gets away from me He never gets to take advantage of all the opportunities in Hollywood—and there are so many"

"UM-M-M-M-M-M!" murmured Hackett, a look of distance on his face.

Rome Purification Plan Found Acceptable Today

PITTSBURGH, Pa — (UP)—A device used by the ancient Romans to purify water may be adopted by American industries to sterilize water without leaving any chemical taste or odor

Scientific tests at Johns Hopkins University prove the ancient Caesars knew what they were doing when they dropped bars of silver in long aqueducts built to carry water to distant cities.

A Pittsburgh firm sponsored the tests of its new water purification process which uses complex silver salts as its principal ingredient Harmful bacteria are speedily killed by "bullets of silver" released into the water by the new method called the hyla process Water purified by this process is completely free from bacteria and has no taste or smell

The process has gained wide acceptance in Europe and the U S Public Health Service says water with less than one part silver per million is safe Tests at Johns Hopkins proved that hyla-treated water has only seven parts of silver per billion.

It is estimated that 30,000 or 40,000 asteroids (minor planets) may revolve around the sun

Prizes were presented to major winners in Saturday's Soap Box Derby at the regular noon luncheon of the Marion Lions Club yesterday in Hotel Harding.

Bobby Whitman of LaRue, the derby champion, walked off with the lion's share of the prizes.

Given 3 Trophies

Whitman received the Keating trophy for winning the local derby, a rotating trophy for his school, and a permanent trophy.

In addition, he and Darrell Fyffe of Caledonia, derby runner-up, were presented with season passes to Marion Barons hockey games and free skating privileges at the Coliseum by Pete Hendy, Barons' public relations man.

A plaque was presented to W.E. Thew of Thew and Sons Garage of LaRue, sponsor of the Whitman youth, and a trophy was presented to Fyffe for finishing second in the local derby. Don Lewis of Farm & Home Lumber Co. of Caledonia, sponsors of the Fyffe boy, also received a plaque.

Other Awards

Trophies were presented to Larry Craig of Marion, Class A runner-up, and Bobby Flach, Class B runner-up, while tool board, tool kit and archery set prizes went to Tom Clark of Marion for having the best constructed car, Andy Tate of LaRue, best upholstered car, and Phillip Seiter of Green Camp, best appearing car.

Robert Mott, Delaware city manager, was presented a chrome-plated oil can for winning the Mayor's race, which preceded the derby.

Prize presentations were made by Col. John Phelan, master of ceremonies, and Walter Grumblatt, Dr. Wesley Ranck and Dr. Dan Murphy.

Best-Run Derby

Col. Phelan reported the derby had the largest number of racers, least number of scratches, and the equipment was set up, the races run off and the ramps taken down quicker than in any other previous derby.

All the boys who participated in the derby were guests of the club. Robert Evans, step-father of Bobby Whitman, was present and introduced to the large audience.

Cohn

ica, Ft. Monmouth, defense plants and other key places.

"The jury of the American people saw and heard him during the (McCarthy-Army) hearings. They know first-hand of his ability and his effectiveness. I know that they will resent as deeply as do I the treatment to which he has been subjected."

Text of Letter

Following is the text of the letter from Cohn to McCarthy:

"Dear Mr. Chairman.

"As there appears to be a lack of unanimity among the members of the investigations subcommittee upon the question of continuing my services as chief counsel, I hereby tender my resignation.

"It has been a privilege to perform my duties under your inspiring leadership. The enthusiastic support which has come to me from the American people for the small part that I have played in this task of exposing Communist infiltration in key places has been an inspiring force and a great comfort. I extend to the great American jury my heartfelt thanks for its loyal support.

"Needless to add it is with much reluctance that I leave the challenging work of the committee, but I am certain that the fight against atheistic Communist influence will continue until every vestige of it is driven from our shores.

"Respectfully yours,

"Roy M. Cohn"

Cohn had been chief counsel of the McCarthy subcommittee since early in 1953. His pay was $11,700 a year but he testified during the McCarthy-Army hearings that he received a larger income from a New York law firm with which he retained a partnership.

Had Denied Plans To Quit

Cohn had denied repeatedly in recent weeks reports that he planned to quit. So had McCarthy.

The 27-year-old Cohn first became a familiar national figure during televised hearings of McCarthy's investigations in which as special subcommittee counsel he did much of the quizzing of witnesses.

His name became a household word when he appeared as a principal in the Army-McCarthy hearings, in which he was both a witness and a questioner.

During the 36 days of televised hearings, he was constantly at McCarthy's side steadily whispering into the senator's ear.

The sole registered Democrat to command McCarthy's ear in Washington with regularity, Cohn is the only child of Albert Cohn, former Bronx politician and now a New York appellate court judge in Manhattan.

Cohn has rarely been far from controversy since his early days as a lawyer.

In U.N. Controvery

His handling of a federal grand jury's investigation of subversives among Americans at the United Nations brought on a row which was investigated by a House subcommitee.

A whirlwind 18-day trip through Europe by Cohn and G. David Schine—whose controversial Army career was the center of the Army-McCarthy row—produced congressional debate and a rash of unfavorable comment in the foreign press.

There has been a running debate over the manner in which McCarthy's subcommitee has treated witnesses, and Cohn has done a lot of the questioning.

Cohn at 20 won his law degree from the Columbia University before he was old enough to be a lawyer. He worked as a law clerk in the U.S. attorney's office until he turned 21, the minimum age to take the bar examination in New York.

'So Far So Good'

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), who has been maneuvering in an effort to get a Senate vote on censure against McCarthy, commented on Cohn's resignation:

"So far so good.

"This of course does not reach the heart of the problem represented by the junior senator from Wisconsin."

The group within McCarthy's subcommitee aligned in favor of ousting Cohn was reported to include Sen. Potter (R-Mich), and the three Democratic members—Sens. McClellan (Ark.), Symington (Mo) and Jackson (Wash).

The New York Mirror said Cohn had resigned during a weekend meeting with McCarthy and Sens. Mundt, (R-SD), and Dirksen (R-Ill). The Chicago Tribune said in a dispatch from Washington that Cohn faced possible ouster at today's session and that Mundt and Dirksen had suggested a resignation would "ease the situation."

The New York paper quoted as saying "three or four" other staff members will resign soon. It mentioned as possibilities Francis P. Carr, chief of staff, and investigators Donald A. Surine, James N. Juliana and Thomas Lavenia.

Denied Clearance

Surine and Lavenia have been named in widely published accounts as the two members of the subcommittee staff to whom the Defense Department has refused clearances to handle secret documents.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) meanwhile, prepared to deliver on the Senate floor a speech he had made public Sunday demanding that McCarthy's conduct as chairman of the subcommittee be censured. Flanders announced yesterday he would not move for Senate action today, as he planned originally, but would delay until July 30.

Flanders contends the Wisconsin senator has wielded "a harmful influence" and committed excesses.

McCarthy declined to comment on Flanders' latest move, but outlined a program for the day which probably would keep him out of the Senate while Flanders is delivering his speech.

Papers Quote Cohn

The two newspapers which reported that Cohn had resigned in advance of the session quoted him as saying he had made the decision reluctantly.

The New York Mirror quoted him: "I feel sorry about resigning, but this unending sniping at me isn't good for me or the committee."

The Chicago Tribune quoted Cohn: "It has been a bitter lesson to come to Washington and see a reputation gained at some effort torn to shreds merely because I was associated with Sen. McCarthy, who has become the symbol of hatred for all who fear the exposure of communism."

The Tribune quoted McCarthy as saying Cohn's departure would be "one of the greatest victories ever scored by the Communist party of the United States."

ed around the proposal for AEC to negotiate a contract for private power to be furnished the Tennessee Valley Authority at Memphis.

President Eisenhower has directed AEC to deal with a combine known as the Dixon-Yates group for 600,000 kilowatts of power to be delivered to TVA. TVA would continue to deliver a like amount of power to the atomic plant at Paducah, Ky. The proposal is a substitute for TVA's plan to build a steam plant near Memphis with appropriated funds.

Gore and others have contended the proposed contract gives preference to a single group, and would cost the government $3,685,000 more annually than would TVA power. They have questioned AEC's authority to enter into such a contract when the power would not be used directly in an atomic plant.

Truckers Fail In Try To Kill Ohio's Axle Tax

Commissioner Stands By Assessment; Appeal Studied by Owners

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Balked in a court attempt for a "quickie" knockout of Ohio's axle tax, truckers today wheeled into position for another challenge.

Some 54 companies refusing to pay the tax on trucks with more than two axles took exception to assessments yesterday before the Ohio Sales and Highway Use Tax Hearing Board.

Stanley J. Bowers, state tax commissioner who made the assessments, said final determination of the cases would pave the way for truckers to take them before the Board of Tax Appeals

That indicated Bowers would stand by the assessments. He said that neither the tax commissioner nor the appeals board could rule on constitutionality of the law. Bowers added that truckers could appeal an adverse board decision to the state and U. S. supreme courts to test the new Ohio law.

Pastors Fight Battle of Writs For Parsonage

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Dr Joseph C. Richards filed an action in common pleas court here today asking a writ of prohibition restraining Justice of the Peace G. J. P. Louys from hearing a church parsonage eviction suit docketed in Louys court Thursday.

A temporary writ was granted

Last week Rev. Robert B. Weaver, newly assigned pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church here, filed suit against Dr. Richards to gain possession of the church parsonage and garage.

Dr. Richards is a former pastor of the church whom the board of trustees made business manager. At the same time the board gave Dr. Richards authority to use the parsonage.

The suits stem originally from a church controversy during which Dr. Richards turned in his credentials as a Methodist minister to Ohio Area Bishop Hazen G. Werner. Dr. Richards had declined another assignment which he said would have meant a $4,000 salary cut.

Judge H. B. Mullholand granted the temporary writ and gave Louys until July 30 to show cause why the writ should not be made permanent. Richards' petition claimed Louys had no jurisdiction in this type of case because a title to real estate was involved.

Judge Mullholand said he would ask Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme court to assign another judge to hear the case on the writ of prohibition.

Bus

company guaranteed to continue service here until Jan. 1.

"We are very hopeful that the entire $1,600 contribution will not be needed," Pogue said. He explained that the experience of most bus companies is that business drops off in the summer, but picks up in the fall and winter months. He said his company looks for income in these periods to carry them through the slower summer months next year.

Another provision of the contract was that the bus tickets purchased by the local businessmen when the company first started will be void after midnight Saturday, July 24.

"A town this size should have at least 15-minute service on principal routes and during rush hours," he said. Included in the better service idea might be more bus stops, particularly in the downtown section, he said.

HIS COMPANY hopes to build the local operation up to provide routes better tailored to riders' needs and a shorter time interval between buses. "But, we can do it only if Marion people will develop the bus riding habit," he said.

"Riding the buses is really the smart thing to do," he added, "because it has numerous advantages over driving a car downtown. For example, there are no parking problems with a bus, you are delivered almost to the door of the store you wish to visit, and there is no fighting of traffic, which all adds up to more convenient transportation."

In addition to this, it is actually cheaper than driving a car, he said. "By the time the average motorist drives to the downtown section, finds a parking space, pays for parking his car, and drives home, the cost is considerably more than the bus fare," he said.

Pogue noted that since Marion City Lines have been in operation, the buses have maintained a "very close schedule" with the only disruptions being caused by blocked railroad crossings. He pointed out that schedules for each bus line are available in the buses or by phoning the company. These schedules are designed to allow some leeway for delays caused by blocked railroad crossings, he said.

"We sincerely hope that the number of bus riders will increase in the coming months," he said.

Man Hurt in Collision

One person was slightly injured in one of the other traffic accidents reported today by Marion police.

Floyd Williams, 55, of near Belle Center suffered a back injury in a collision at W. Center St. and the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing at 7:44 a.m. today. He required no medical treatment.

Williams' truck was struck from the rear by a car driven by Eugene Boyd, 23, of near Marion. Boyd was arrested on a charge of reckless driving and slated to appear in Municipal Court today for a hearing.

Only other accident reported by city police occurred at 7:39 a.m. today at S. Main and Church Sts.

Cars driven by John D. Robson, 22, of 197 E. Washington Ave. and Mrs. Marjorie Shipley of 533 Mary St. were damaged when they collided at the intersection.

Robson was northbound on S. Main St. and Mrs. Shipley was southbound attempting to make a left turn onto E. Church St. She was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Kenton Driver Injured

One person was slightly injured in one of two accidents reported in Marion County by state highway patrolmen. In both accidents one of the drivers involved was arrested and charged with a traffic violation.

The injured person was John F. Mullins, 47, of Kenton. He was hurt when the left front end of his car collided with the right rear of one driven by William J. Carothers, 33, also of Kenton on State Route 95, eight-tenths of a mile west of Marion at 3:35 p.m. Monday.

Heavy damage was reported to both cars. Mullins was taken to a physician's office by patrolmen, where he was treated for lacerations of the forehead and abrasions of the knees.

Mullins was then taken to city jail where he was charged with unsafe operation. Unable to post bond for his appearance Saturday, he was detained in jail.

A car driven by Howard E. Edington, 24, of 771 York St. was moderately damaged when it went off the road on U. S. Route 30-S, one and one-half miles east of the city limits, at 1:25 p.m. Monday.

Patrolmen report Edington tried to pass a truck as he was eastbound. He apparently saw another car on the highway in front of the truck and applied his brakes, losing control of the car.

The auto went into a ditch on the north side of the road. Edington was arrested and ordered to appear in Municipal Court Saturday to answer a charge of driving left of center.

$10,000 Asked For Injury in Fatal Collision

A $10,064 damage suit resulting from an automobile accident Oct 18, 1953 was filed against Robert I. Massie of Morral Monday in Common Pleas Court by Lena Nicolosi of 159 Waterloo St.

In her petition, Miss Nicolosi states that she was a passenger in the automobile driven by Massie when it collided with a motorcycle driven by Clifford Clark, who was fatally injured. She sustained a fractured right ankle from the accident which has left a permanent limp, the plaintiff claims.

The accident occurred just outside the city on W. Fairground St. Representing Miss Nicolosi is G. A. Piacentino

Massie was indicted for second degree manslaughter by the grand jury for Clark's death. He subsequently was found guilty of the charge by a Common Pleas Court jury, and was placed on probation subject to good behavior, fined $500 and costs, and sentenced to six months in the county jail. Common Pleas Court Judge Paul D. Smith suspended $400 of the fine and five months of the jail sentence.

Geneva

ist China last night had suddenly demanded that the United States join in guaranteeing the Indochina armistice This dispatch said Mendes-France had replied at once there was no question of getting the United States to become a guarantor since it already had refused such a role.

(Another Times dispatch from Geneva said the Communists had demanded that native Red-led guerrillas in Laos and Cambodia be allocated territorial "pockets" in those kingdoms and allowed to keep their arms until elections could be held in which they would participate. The Laotian and Cambodian governments were reported opposed to the new red demands.)

Mendes-France, after dining last night with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, returned to his lakeside villa to receive Dong fo rmore bargaining on still unsettled issues. It was not immediately known whether they narrowed their differences.

Reliable sources said the chief points in dispute were the exact location of the demarcation line and the date for the future all-Viet Nam elections

On the territorial issue, the French previously had held out for the 18th Parallel as the dividing line and the Vietminh for the 16th. The midway point, suggested by Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov, would permit south Viet Nam to retain the major port of Tourane and the ancient Annamese capital of Hue.

Ask Quick Election

On the election issue the Vietminh want the voting as soon as possible. The French and Vietnamese, admitting that Ho Chi Minh would win any balloting held immediately after the armistice, asked for a delay of two years.

The communists yesterday were reported willing to delay the election for 18 months.

Regardless of the outcome of the day's events, Mendes-France had his plane ordered to take him to Paris tomorrow. There, on Thursday, he must report to the National Assembly to which on June 17 he gave his "peace or resignation by July 20" pledge.

In the flurry of final negotiations, the United States maintained its sideline role U.S. Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith planned to attend the climactic conference session later today, but U.S. Secretary of State Dulles told a Senate committee in Washington yesterday that the United States would not sign any pending Indochina peace settlement Dulles added that his government would not do anything to upset any reasonable agreement.

Dulles Cancels His Press Session, Watches Geneva

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles canceled his news conference today to keep in close touch with Indochina truce developments at Geneva.

Dulles, who usually meets with newsmen on Tuesdays when he is in Washington, was reported to be in frequent telephone and cable contact with Walter Bedell Smith, head of the U. S. delegation at the Far Eastern conference.

Riddel Retires After 25 Years as Local Fireman

After 25 years of service on the Marion Fire Department, James R. Riddel, 62, of 768 Merkle Ave. retired from the force Monday. Riddel had been at the W. Center St. station since his appointment July 20, 1929.

Chief Owen Sifritt said today that Riddel "was a good fireman who always held up his end and never shirked his duty."

Riddel has taken a job at the Betty Zane Popcorn Factory and has already begun work there.

Delays Hold Up Bridge Repairs

Traffic Blocked on Sections of 2 Roads

Delays in repair work on two county bridges is holding up opening of traffic, Marion County Engineer Reed Ours reported today.

Repair of a bridge on County Road 106, south of the Marion Country Club, is being held up pending arrival of concrete pipes ordered from a Columbus concern and availability of a power shovel and crane to remove the existing old concrete, he said. This bridge was damaged in a recent storm

A section of County Road 162, south of Caledonia, is closed while county engineering department employes are rebuilding abutments on a bride. Delays in the project have been encountered due to having to pull off the workers when the recent storms have arisen, the engineer explained.

He could not give an estimated completion date on the two bridge projects because of these conditions.

Two Women Paroled From Reformatory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two Southern Ohio women will be paroled from the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville after serving 10-year terms for second-degree murder, the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission announced today.

They are Mrs. Dorothy Fields, who was 19 when she arrived at Marysville March 24, 1944, and Mrs. Emma Agles, who was 23 when she entered Marysville July 10, 1944. Mrs. Fields was sentenced in Hamilton County and Mrs. Agles in Butler County.

The commission records show Mrs. Fields set fire to her home Oct. 15, 1943. Her husband, Ollie, whom she married in 1939, and three children died in the fire. She insisted at the trial she loved her husband and children and did not mean to kill them.

Mrs. Agles is serving time for killing Delbert Clark, whom she had invited to her apartment, Commission records show. There was an argument over money and Clark refused to leave the apartment when Mrs. Agles ordered him out. She fired three shots and killed him.

Mrs Fields will be paroled Aug. 26, Mrs. Agles Sept. 23.

Indochina

Yet, there is nothing like open hostility toward Americans here, except in a few isolated cases. Many Vietnamese nationalists still look upon Americans as possible friends and hope for direct aid when the French are gone.

Much resentment, among both French and Vietnamese, stems from widely published reports of American concern that the aid she has given might fall into the hands of the Communist-led Vietminh.

"Of course we sympathize with this attitude," a Vietnamese official explained. "But to stress it at this time hardly is in good taste. Many of my people, unjustly or not, feel the United States is acting like a man whose house is afire and is more concerned with the furniture than his family inside."

The principal reason for the decline in the American position here, as summarized by Frenchmen and their Vienamese allies, is the apparent lack of clear and consistent U.S. policy, and Washington's uncertainty in dealing with the Indochina situation. Vietnamese, who don't know the intricacies of American party politics, are repeatedly confused by the conflicting statements coming from leaders in the United States.

From Hanoi in the North, Associated Press Correspondent Forrest Edwards reports:

"Americans are regarded with bitterness and disappointment by many Frenchmen. A French soldier told me bitterly, 'We are shedding our blood in your war.' That was a reference to the American contention that this is a war against communism.

Judge Recesses Court After Mercury Hits 110

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It was 110 degrees on a thermometer outside Circuit Judge Robert J. Kirkwood's office window yesterday and that was too hot for court.

The case involved a dispute over control of a weekly newspaper.

Boy, 6, Bleeding 14 Days, Gains In Death Race

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—It began to look today as though 6-year-old Eddie Phillips, who has been bleeding since July 6, might live

"His condition is still critical but it is no longer desperate," his doctor said last night.

Since the slender, tow-headed son of a Middletown automobile dealer had his tonsils taken out early this month there has been some trouble in his blood stream. Certain elements have been lacking and his blood hasn't been able to clot.

In an atempt to save his life, nearly 60 persons have given him their blood The youngster has received more than 30 pints of whole blood plasma

Until last night, there seemed little hope for the boy whose home in past weeks has been an oxygen tent and who has breathed through a tube in his throat and taken his meals intravenously.

Then the bleeding became almost negligible. His doctor said:

"As far as I can see this has been the best day for the boy in almost a week.

"This is no dramatic turn. But his own body is fighting and is building up the elements necessary to coagulate the blood."

Traffic Cases

Fines and bond forfeitures totaling $330 were assessed 13 drivers in Marion Municipal Court Monday on various traffic charges. Five of the fines and costs were later suspended by Judge W. Dexter Hazen.

A plea of guilty to a drunken driving charge resulted in the stiffest penalty of the day for Samuel L. Easterday, 39, of Marysville. He was sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail, fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for three years.

Two drivers each forfeited $35 bonds when they failed to appear for hearings. They were John Shockman, 28, of Dayton charged with speeding and George W. Souper, 21, of Bexley, on a reckless driving charge.

Other dispositions were: Donald H Davidson, 21, of Fostoria, speeding, $15 and costs; Fate H. Cooper, 28, of Sandusky, crossing over a yellow line, $15 and costs; Cody Hartman, 48, of 641 Oak St., driving left of the center line, $15 and costs suspended; J. O. Trace, 39, of Mt. Vernon, driving left of center, $15 and costs suspended; Howard D. Campbell, 67, of near Sycamore, no safety chains, $15 and costs; Joseph R. Kirk, 19, of 487 Oak St., reckless driving, $15 and costs; Jolly Arnett, 21, of 139 Scioto St., reckless driving and driving without a license, $25 and costs; Hugh H. Smith, 26, of Hayesville, speeding, $40 and costs Eugene Groyler, 35, of Lexington, Ky., parking within an intersection, $10 and costs; and Benjamin F. Johnson, 29, of Springfield, following too closely, $10 and costs.

Former Cab Driver From Indianapolis Suspect in Slaying

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Police said today that a former Indianapolis cab driver has been identified from pictures as the "Jack O'Shea" in whose hotel room the body of 18-year-old Dorothy Poore was found Sunday, crammed in a drawer.

They said identification was made by a taxi driver and two elevator operators.

Wesley R. Irvin, 23, said the picture was that of the fare he took from the Union Bus Terminal to three hotels Thursday — a man who he said "seemed crazy for a woman."

Mrs. Ethel Fields and Mrs. Jean Meredith, elevator operators at the Claypool Hotel, pointed to the picture and said they had taken the man and the job-hunting high school graduate from Clinton, Ind., to his floor in the Claypool Thursday night.

Funeral Slated For Victim of Traffic Mishap

CRESTLINE — Funeral services were to be held here this afternoon for Mrs. Pauline Spangler, 26, of Crestline, who died at Emergency Hospital Sunday morning from injuries suffered in an automobile-farm wagon accident.

Mrs. Spangler, wife of William E. Spangler Jr., died of internal injuries received when a car struck the rear of the tractor-drawn farm wagon she was driving east toward Crestline on U.S. Route 30-N, one half mile west of Crestline, Saturday noon.

Driver of the car was Lucius E. Young, 30, of Chicago, Ill., who was accompanied by his wife, Mary, 32, and their 13-year-old daughter, Ruby, who were treated for minor injuries and released from Emergency Hospital.

Young was found guilty of unsafe operation of a motor vehicle when he appeared before Mayor Nelson Lee and was fined $40 and costs and was released. Young had pleaded innocent to the charge.

Cpl. Cardwell of the Bucyrus post of the state highway patrol, said the tractor which Mrs. Spangler was driving was struck with so much force that it broke in half. After colliding with the tractor, the Young car overturned and skidded 40 feet on its left side before coming to a stop.

Mrs. Spangler was born Feb. 23, 1928, in Vernon Township, Crawford County, to Austin and Esther Swarer Watt. She was graduated from Tiro High School in 1946 and on Jan. 27, 1947, was married to William Spangler, who survives. Also surviving are: three children, Sharon Lee, William David and Robert Anthony, her parents, who reside northwest of Crestline; one sister, Mrs. Charles Thomas of Crestline; one brother, Carl Watt of near Crestline; and her grandfather, Noah Swarer of near Crestline.

She was a member of Calvary Evangelical and Reformed Church, secretary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary here and a member of the Vernon Township Housewives Club.

Dale Mitchell Wins for Tribe in Pinch-Hitting Role

Garcia Nominated To Pitch Opener of Series in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — An injured third baseman and a pinch hitter who has been to bat only 40 times this season kept Cleveland half a game ahead yesterday in the touch-and-go American League race.

Al Rosen, dangerous despite a broken right index finger that pains him every time his bat hits a ball, drove in three of the Tribe's four runs against Washington, and Dale Mitchell, benched this year to make room for rookie outfielder Al Smith, singled in the other run in the seventh for a 4-3 victory.

That preserved, for the eighth straight day, the half-game bulge the Indians have been nursing over the second-place New York Yankees.

The finger he broke May 25 may have all but ruined Rosen's chances for the league home run and batting average leaderships, but it has not kept him from driving in runs.

During the last 12 games, he has driven in 12 scores and for the season he now has a total of 71, just one less than Chicago's Minnie Minoso, who leads the league.

Rosen doubled in two runs in the first, after Bob Avila reached first on Jerry Snyder's error and Larry Doby singled.

His single in the fifth scored Avila, who singled, stole second and reached third on a wild pitch.

The payoff, however, was Mitchell's single after Washington had tied the score in the bottom of the sixth. Doby singled to start the Indians half of the seventh and reached second as Dave Philley walked.

Early Wynn, the winning pitcher, was relieved after sweltering eight innings in 96-degree heat. It was his 12th win against seven losses.

Three relievers—Art Houtteman, Don Mossi ant Ray Narleski—preserved the victory, all working in the ninth. Houtteman struck out Tom Umphlett but then gave up a single to Pete Runnels. After Ed Fitz Gerald grounded out and Runnels moved to second, Mossi took over to pitch to Mickey McDermott. When McDermott was taken out for right-hander Clyde Vollmer, Mossi gave up a walk and was relieved by Narleski. Narleski got Eddie Yost to foul to Rosen, ending the game.

Fitz Gerald hit his first homer of the year in the fifth and the other two Washington runs came in the next inning. Mickey Vernon walked and Jim Busby doubled before Umphlett banged a two-run single.

Mike Garcia pitches for Cleveland tonight against Boston's Willard Nixon. Garcia, who has a 12-5 record, has beaten the Red Sox three straight times. Nixon, who has an 8-7 record, has lost four straight to the Indians.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Marion's Pony League All-Stars will see action tonight at Defiance when they meet Delphos in a regional game. Regardless of the outcome of the battle tonight the Marion squad can be proud of its performance Saturday in dumping Bellefontaine at Lincoln Park.

SHORT

The Marion team, in winning 5 - 4, banged out 11 base hit and was charged with three errors. Jim Harris and Bob Lister combined to hold the visiting team to three hits. Bellefontaine scored its first run without benefit of a base hit.

Harris was the starting hurler for the locals and set down the side in the first three innings on strikeouts. His pitching had the fans buzzing. He had a no-hitter going until the fifth frame when he ran into a little trouble and Lister came on.

Bob Claypool of the locals was robbed of an almost certain triple when his grounder down the first base line got through the Bellefontaine first sacker and then hit the umpire. He was held to a single when the first baseman recovered.

Lister continued to set the opposing team down on strikes with a sharp-breaking curve. Fans in the stands apparently could see the ball break better than the hitters.

The most rabid boosters for the Marion team were the rest of the boys from the Pony League teams. An announcement that Local 1039, UAW-CIO, at Marion Industries, had given a $25 gift to the Baseball for Boys Commission brought a burst of applause from those boys and from the other people at the game.

Many Bellefontaine fans made the trip to the game but among the most disappointed was one man who came prepared to celebrate. He was equipped with a noisy cowbell but had only two chances to use it when his boys forged into the lead.

Work of the umpires in the game was on the outstanding side. The men in blue included Marion's Wade Conkle behind the plate, Alvin Johnson of Bellefontaine at first, Bill Cannada of Marion at second and H. E. Underwood of Bellefontaine at third. Ben Lenavitt was on the public address system.

Despite the fact the game was played at Lincoln Park, Marion was the visiting team. In tournament competition a coin is flipped to decide which is the visiting team regardless of where the game is played.

Following the final putout, the No. 1 conversation piece was the trip to Defiance and the best way of making the trip. Formation of car pools solved the problem for many and Marion should be well represented at the game tonight.

SAUER HOMERS TWICE—KEEPS PROMISE. Chicago Cubs' star hitter Hank Sauer points toward the left field fence as he promises former little league, Don Scheffki, 12, of Chicago a home run before the start of the first game of a double header against the Pittsburgh Pirates at Wrigley Field. Sauer more than kept his promise to the lad, who lost both legs when he was hit by a train, as he belted two homers into the bleachers in his first two times at bat.

She is owned by Wayne Galvin of Lima and Dr. H. K. Bailey of Wilmington. She paid $16.60 and finished in 2:10.6.

In the second part of the feature trot, Fleet Song was nosed out by Hoot Suite, driven by the track's leading sulky driver, Bill Current. Hoote Suite paid $7.60. Time was 2:07.4 in the second dash of the 3-year-old trot.

Fleet Song, however, earned the trophy, finishing 2-1 in the standings.

Furgol Seeking Slam in Crack At PGA Crown

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — For the first time since Ben Hogan scored his first "slam" in 1946, the National Open golf champion is shooting for America's No. 2 pro golf prize, the PGA Championship.

And even the celebrated "Minneapolis Line" won't give you much idea of "crooked arm" Ed Furgol's chances of winning this tough event over a course that could be plain murder to followers of golfing form.

Furgol, the surprise winner of the Open, got into the PGA Championship on a sort of rain check—that's a rule which automatically qualifies the reigning Open titleholder even though he may have missed out, as Ed did, in the sectional rounds.

Hogan doesn't play in the PGA Championship any more. He figures the seven-day grind is too tough for him.

As it stands, Furgol is just one of 135 players who'll start shooting tomorrow for 63 places in the match play bracket. After 36 holes of qualifying, the survivors will start Friday on the knockout phase, which winds up with next Tuesday's 36-hole final.

FOP Nine Nips LaRue 14-11 in Teen Slugfest

Marion's Fraternal Order of Police nine, beaten twice previously by LaRue, gained revenge by outslugging that club 14-11 in a Marion County Teen League contest at LaRue last night.

Ken Ellwood, Bob Maggs and Dave Gallimore all combined to hold the losers to seven hits in the win. The locals tagged LaRue hurling for 12 hits, scoring one run in the first inning, three in the second, three in the fifth, five in the sixth and two in the seventh.

LaRue scored once in the third, added five in the fourth, two in the sixth and three in the seventh for its scoring.

The locals took advantage of 11 walks and six LaRue errors in the win. Marion pitching gave up 14 walks to LaRue while hitting two batsmen but also accounted for 11 strike outs.

Ted Burns and Ellwood with three hits apiece led the Marion hitting attack. Garry Williams, Butch Simpson, Mario Barrett, Pete Bailey, Pete Bumgarner and Larry Gamble all added a bingle. Herrick had three hits for LaRue while Culver, Arnold, G. Isom and Hughes all contributed a hit.

Cincy Blast Nips Giants 1-0 in 12th

CINCINNATI (AP)—Harry Perkowski came through with his second win of the season last night, a beautiful three-hit whitewash of the league leading New York Giants.

But it took 12 innings and a home run by catcher Hobie Landrith to give the Cincinnati Reds their 1-0 triumph.

Perkowski, tired but grinning, was asked if he thought he or Landrith was happier to see the end of the 3 hour and 16 minute pitching duel witnessed by 13,477 fans at Crosley Field.

"I don't know who is happier," he replied, "but I'm glad it's over. It was a great one to win."

He allowed the Giants only three hits, including Whitey Lockman's and Monte Irvin's doubles. Irvin was picked off second base in the seventh inning when Lockman hit a grounder. Alvin Dark beat out a single in the 11th.

Two of the five walks were given to rival pitcher Don Liddle, but the second time Liddle walked he was on the front end of a doubleplay, the 123rd of the season for the Reds. Cincinnati leads the majors in the DP department.

The victory put the Reds back into third place.

Perkowski has lost seven decisions this season, three of them to New York. One was a real heartbreaker. Bobby Hofman hit a two-out homer in the ninth to give the Giants a 2-1 victory.

In last night's game the Reds could have saved Perkowski a lot of toil by coming through at the right time.

Chuck Harmon led off the first with a single and advanced to third on a sacrifice and a fielder's choice. He was cut down at the plate trying to score on Ted Kluszewski's fly. In the ninth, Klu and Jim Greengrass hit consecutive singles with one out. But Wally Post and Johnny Temple did not produce.

In the 11th, Roy McMillan opened with a double. Gus Bell was intentionally walked. Escalera, Greengrass and Post flied out to send the game into the 12th.

The Reds and Giants had been scheduled for only a three-game series, but last night's tilt was added because of a previous postponement. The two teams square off for another battle this afternoon.

Columbus Defeated By Six-Run Inning

By The Associated Press

The Louisville Colonels continued a fiery effort to overtake the Indianapolis Indians in the American Association with a 6-1 verdict over Kansas City last night.

The win enabled the Colonels to keep within some semblance of striking distance of the Indians who maintained their 10-game edge over runnerup Louisville with a 12-8 blasting of Toledo.

In other games:

The Minneapolis Millers scored all their runs in the fourth inning off starter Stu Miller and beat Columbus 6-3. Bud Byerly went the distance for the visitors, scattering five hits including Ben Downs' 12th home run of the season, good for two runs.

Bill Killinger's three-run homer in the fifth inning furnished the margin for Charleston as the Senators beat St. Paul 6-3.

Depot Squad's Lead Reduced In Golf League

The Marion Engineer Depot No. 1 team clung to its slim hold on top spot in the Marion Industrial Golf League over American Legion Post 162, first round winner, following action yesterday.

The Depot squad downed Marion Industries 5 - 2 while the Legion Post edged Marion Power Shovel 5-3 to gain ground on the runner-up squad. The leaders have 13½ points in the league race to 12 for the Legion team.

In other action yesterday, Gulf Refining dumped Tecumseh Products 6-2, Erie Railroad edged Marion Engineer Depot No. 2 4½-3½, and B. F. Goodrich trimmed Marion Engineer Depot No. 3 5½ - 2½.

B. F. Goodrich thus currently ranks third in the league with 11½ points. Then come Marion Industries with 8, Tecumseh Products with 6½, Gulf Refining, Marion Engineer Depot No. 2 and Marion Engineer Depot No. 3, all with 6, Erie Railroad with 5½ and Marion Power Shovel with 5.

Low net scores yesterday were 29's by Tom Kirwin and R. Kirk and a 31 by C. Wynn.

Al Lopez Mum on Hurling Choices for Yankee Battles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Al Lopez, whose Cleveland Indians are hanging stubbornly to a half-game lead in the American League, said today he'll settle for nothing less than a sweep of the "crucial" series this weekend with the New York Yankees.

"Who wants two out of three?" Lopez said in the manner of a man who would rejoice with two out of three. "You've got to go for them all in this league."

"They've been pretty hot," Lopez said of the Yankees, "but they're bound to cool off sooner or later."

Lopez wouldn't tip his hand about his pitching selections for the Yankees, but it would be more than surprising if the three Cleveland pitchers don't turn out to be, reading from Friday to Sunday: Lemon, Wynn, Garcia.

In the 11 games played between the clubs so far this season, Lopez has started every time with one of his "Big Three." This is so even though their combined record against the Yanks this year is only 2-5.

Lopez was making no predictions about the outcome of the pennant race. He said he is well aware the Yankees are tough and that you win no championships with talk.

"They've got to beat us," Lopez said, "It won't be easy, particularly now that we're in the best physical shape we've been in all season."

The Indians have been running in front despite a flock of injuries which have sidelined such stars as Lemon, Al Rosen and Bob Avila.

Miranda Eyed For Permanent Use by Stengel

NEW YORK (AP)—Guillermo (Willie) Miranda walked gingerly from the shower and laughed as he headed for his locker in the New York Yankee dressing room.

"See," he said grinning, "you hit a home run and everybody waits to talk to you. There are more guys around here now than there have been all season."

This was yesterday, some minutes after the Yankees had blanked the Detroit Tigers 8-0 on Allie Reynolds' three-hitter. Two of the runs came on Miranda's first homer of the year and the second of his major league career.

"They all were kidding me in the dugout after I hit that one," he said. "They said, 'Are you weak or something. Why can't you hit it into the upper deck.'"

Actually, the blow was a solid one, traveling on a line about 350 feet into the lower left field seats.

Willie, a switch-hitter, who resides in Havana and plays for Almendarez in the Cuban League during the winter, has a lifetime big league batting average of .222.

Except for starting assignments June 1 and July 2, the 27-year-old Miranda has been used solely as a late-inning defensive replacement for shortstop Phil Rizzuto. That was until the first game of Sunday's double-header against Detroit when Manager Casey Stengel decided to give Rizzuto a much-needed rest.

Now Miranda may be kept in the lineup against the Chicago White Sox tonight in the first game of an important four-game set.

Although he doesn't care to discuss it, Stengel plainly is worried by Rizzuto's inability to produce.

Phil, who will be 36 on Sept. 25, is batting only .203 and has slowed down perceptibly in the field. Hence, Miranda could well play a more vital role than expected in the club's drive for a sixth straight pennant.

Little Leagues Hold Drawings For Area Play

Little League tournament play for this region was set at a meeting in Kenton last night attended by John Luginbuhl, Marion Baseball for Boys Commission president, and Dick McClarey, player-agent.

Marion's National League all stars will meet Shelby there Monday, at 5:45 p.m. while Marion's American League all stars battle Galion at Robert Scott Field at 6 p.m. on the same date in district 3 tourney action.

Marion this year is playing in a different region and section, having in previous years played in Little League tournaments at Newark.

Considerable re - arrangement this year placed Marion in Region 6, Section 1, District 3, Area C. This area is divided into the eastern part of which Marion, Galion and Shelby are a part and the western part of which St. Mary, Van Wert and two teams from Paulding County are a part.

Winners of the pair of games next Monday will play the semi-final games at Shelby on Tuesday, July 27, with the final carded in Marion on Thursday, July 2, at 5:45 p.m.

Winner here advances to Urbana where it will meet the Columbus area winner on August 4. The winner there will meet the team from the Dayton-Defiance area for the district 3 title.

Ben Lenavitt is manager of the National League All Stars while Ned Roseberry leads the American Leaguers.

Important 10 Days

Chisox Enter Make or Break Period, Battle Yanks 7 Times

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The next 10 days can go a long way in deciding the American League pennant chances of the Chicago White Sox.

During that spell the Sox face the New York Yankees seven times, starting tonight in Yankee Stadium. The Yanks trail first-place Cleveland by half a game. The White Sox are another four lengths back.

It's going to be a long hard road for Paul Richards' Go-Go Boys, but their four-game sweep over the Indians just before the All-Star break convinced a lot of fans the Sox still are a big threat.

The Yankees are the big stumbling block. In 12 meetings so far the White Sox have come out on the short end eight times. Against every other team, including Cleveland, Chicago holds a winning edge.

Sandwiched in between the home-and-home series with Chicago, the Yankees meet Cleveland in a three-game set in New York over the weekend.

It could turn out that the recently revived Boston Red Sox will hold the immediate key to the first-place scramble. While the White Sox are playing the Yankees, the Indians will be meeting Boston. And when Cleveland switches to New York, Chicago goes to Boston.

The Indians and Yanks both won yesterday. Chicago had the day off. Cleveland defeated Washington, 4-3. New York whipped Detroit, 8-0. Boston won a pair from Baltimore 9-7 and 8-5.

In the National League, Harry Perkowski of Cincinnati pitched a 12-inning, three-hit shutout over the league-leading New York Giants, winning 1-0 on Hobie Landrith's home run. Second-place Brooklyn also lost, 9-4 to Chicago. St. Louis beat Philadelphia 5-1 and Milwaukee defeated Pittsburgh 4-1.

The big thriller was in Cincinnati. Perkowski, a left-hander who had lost seven out of eight decisions this year, pitched brilliantly against the Giants. He walked five, struck out six two of them in the 12th inning, and was in danger of being scored upon only in the seventh when Monte Irvin led off with a double against the scoreboard. Irvin, however, was picked off second. Whitey Lockman doubled with two out in the second. Al Dark beat out an infield single in the 11th.

Brooklyn put on one of its worst fielding performances of the season, committing five errors, in losing to the Cubs for the first time in 10 games.

Peace and quiet reigned at Busch Stadium in St. Louis, scene of Sunday's riot, as the Cardinals whipped the Phillies. Rookie Brooks Lawrence scattered 10 hits in winning his fifth game since joining the Redbirds less than a month ago.

In Milwaukee, Jim Wilson continued to defy the jinx that's supposed to dog no-hit pitchers, as he won his seventh straight game. He limited the Pirates to three hits.

Allie Reynolds, back in action after a hip injury, stopped Detroit on three hits for his 10th in a row after losing his first decision. The Yankee attack included Willie Miranda's second major league home run and Mickey Mantle's 19th homer of the season.

Cleveland had to struggle against the Senators. Manager Al Lopez employed three pitchers to check a Washington threat in the ninth. Dale Mitchell's pinch single in the seventh drove in the winning run.

Home runs accounted for both Boston triumphs over Baltimore. In the first game veteran Mickey Owen climaxed a six-run rally in the ninth with a grand-slam drive. In the nightcap the Sox came from behind with five homers. Jackie Jensen hit a pair and Ted Williams, Milt Bolling and Jim Piersall hit one each.

Yesterday's STARS

Pitching — Harry Perkowski, Cincinnati Redlegs, gave up three hits as he blanked the New York Giants 1-0 in 12 innings.

Batting—Mickey Owen, Boston Red Sox, slammed a grand slam home run to climax a six-run ninth inning rally and give the Red Sox a 9-7 victory over the Baltimore Orioles in the first game of a doubleheader.

Trinity Retains Lead; Epworth Posts 3-0 Win

Trinity retained its first-place lead grip in the Church League last night with a 7-4 win over St. Mary while second-place Epworth was blanking Greenwood 3-0.

St. Mary took a 2-0 lead with single tallies in the first and second innings. After a scoreless third frame, the league leaders broke loose with a four-run spurt in the top of the fourth. The Irish came storming back to knot the count in their half of the frame and held Trinity at bay until the winners pushed over three in the top of the seventh for the margin of victory.

Bill Trimmer went all the way on the mound for the winners. He was nicked for four hits. Fats Millisor was the loser and allowed eight safeties. Dick Gherman banged out a pair of doubles for the winners. Bud England collected a double and two singles and Milan Gorby had a single and double.

Epworth pushed over a run in the first, second and sixth frames as Howard Gilbert held the Greenwood hitters to a pair of base knocks. John Baggs, Gilbert and Jim Seiter scored Epworth's runs. Seiter's triple was the longest blow of the game. Epworth picked up four hits from the offerings of Mel Donaugh, the losing hurler.

Marion Child, Four Others Injured in Mishap at Wyandot

UPPER SANDUSKY — Charles E. Farr, 69, of near Morral, his wife and three grandchildren are being treated at Wyandot Memorial Hospital here for injuries received in an auto accident at 9:15 p.m. Sunday on county road 98, north of Morral.

Most seriously injured was Farr, who received deep lacerations on the head and face and a possible skull fracture.

Mrs. Farr and the grandchildren, Stephanie Farr, 8, and Richard Farr, 5, of Aurora, Ill., and Laura L. Saxton, 3, of Marion, are recovering from minor cuts and shock.

Patrolmen said Farr hit a fallen tree that was near the edge of the road. The tree had blown down across the road several days ago, but had been cut up and cleared except for a portion near the berm. The Farr car was extensively damaged.

The injured were taken to the hospital in the Lucas Co. ambulance from Upper Sandusky.

Graham Bitter After Defeat by Danish Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—"When you get licked by a potato like that, it makes you think about quitting."

Billy Graham, admitting he will be 33 at his next birthday in September, was a thoroughly disgusted man as he sat in his ring togs last night after losing a split decision to Danish Chris Christensen.

"When a guy like this hits you, it makes you w o n d e r what's wrong," he said. "You ask yourself; 'Why don't you counter?' Right now I feel let down. I thought I won the fight 6-4 but I am disgusted.

"I'll know in a few days about fighting again. After I sit down and have a talk with Irving (Irving Cohen, his manager)."

Graham looked ring rusty in his second fight in seven months. He was slow and missed often against the faster Dane, who kept pouring leather at him through the 10 rounds at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway. Christensen showed no solid power with his flicking punches, often resorting to a backhand right, but he was too quick and too busy for the New Yorker, who came within a whisker of winning Kid Gavilan's welter title back in 1951.

Referee Teddy Martin voted for Christensen 5-4-1 and Judge Dave Stewart, 6-3-1. The other judge, Bert Grant, scored it for Graham 5-4-1.

Graham weighed 150, Christensen, 148.

Al Andrews, who won a unanimous decision from Sauveur Chiocca of Corsica in the feature 10 at St. Nicholas Arena, headed back for his home town, Superior, Wis., for a vacation.

"He's tough to fight," said Andrews, who weighed 153 to Chiocca's 146¾. "He can tie you up on the inside and he throws a pretty good punch. I'd like to fight in Superior, but until I get someone to fight there, I'll do some roadwork and box with the amateurs."

Giles To Study Clash Between Cards, Phillies

ST. LOUIS (AP) — National League President Warren Giles holds court here today on a free-for-all between the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies Sunday in a game the umpires forfeited to the Phils.

Giles arrived in town yesterday from Cincinnati but quickly made himself unavailable for comment.

Giles suspended Cardinal Manager Eddie Stanky, catcher Sal Yvars and pitcher Ellis (Cot) Deal of the Birds and first baseman Earl Torgeson of the Phils pending the hearing. He took no action against Phil Manager Terry Moore, who also was involved in the rukus.

Coach Johnny Riddle directed the Cards as they defeated the Phils 5-1, last night in a game as quiet and orderly as the second game of the double-header Sunday was riotous.

Presumably the circumstances leading to the forfeiture of the game, as well as the fight, will be considered at the hearing.

Giles notified the Cardinals of his action in a telegram yesterday after Redbird General Manager Dick Meyer asked the league prexy to come here for an on-the-spot investigation.

To be on hand for the hearing, Giles said, are Managers Stanky and Moore, their coaches, not more than three other representatives of each club, Yvars, Deal and Torgeson and the umpires.

The brawl started after Torgeson objected to close pitches by Deal and then got into a fight with Yvars. The two managers, enemies since Stanky fired Moore as a Cardinal coach in 1952, and players from both teams poured onto the field.

Police broke up the free-for-all after about eight minutes. Shortly afterward, still in the fifth inning, Umpire Babe Pinelli forfeited the game to Philadelphia because of delaying tactics by the Cards.

Casualties from the fray were minor.

Request Issued For Additional Funds at Park

Attendance at the Lincoln Park playground remained steady last week, Walker Huffman, recreation director, announced today. A total of 811 took part in the activities.

During the week Huffman issued an appeal for help in furnishing the playground. The city appropriated only $100 for equipment at the park and it has been operating under limited financing since it opened.

Huffman contacted civic and professional groups in Marion during the week with his request for help. The Marion Rotary Club and Local 750 UAW-CIO each answered the plea with $50 contributions.

The recreation director said any club wishing to inspect the playground to determine its needs was welcome at any time. Staff members are available to attend club meetings to explain the needs, he added.

Interest in the playground program continues to increase steadily, Huffman said in his weekly report. The arts and crafts program, directed by Miss Cora Jane Lehner, is well-attended by the smaller playground users.

Paul O'Rourke, member of the park staff, conducts tennis instruction periods every Tuesday and Thursday morning at Harding High School. Fifteen children are attending the 9 a.m. sessions. Rackets and balls are furnished for those without their own and no charge is made.

Another top playground activity has been formation of a track team under the supervision of Huffman and William Cover. The group is preparing for a meet to be held July 2 at the park. Events to be held include a 40-yard dash for grades one through three, a 50-yard dash for grades four through nine, under 15, base circling for grades one through nine and basket shooting. Children from grade one through grade four will shoot at a seven-foot basket while grades five through nine will shoot at a regulation hoop. First and second place ribbons will be awarded in each event and the first three finishers will qualify for a meet scheduled the following week against a track team from the Prospect Playground.

TEEN LEAGUE SESSION

American Division Teen League All-Stars will hold a practice session Friday at 6 p.m. at Lincoln Park, it was announced today. Coaches of the team were also asked to report for the session.

The U.S. auto industry has produced more than 136 million cars since 1900.

Little League Action

National City Edges Isaly, Goodyear Defeats Bankers

National City Bank edged American League champs Isaly 3-2 and Goodyear trimmed Marion County Bank 6-1 in Little League play on Robert Scott Field last night.

Two runs in the first inning and one in the third proved to be National City Bank's winning margin over Isaly as Jim Hindman twirled a three-hitter for his sixth victory against four setbacks.

Hindman, reached by Isaly for a run in the third and one in the fifth, struck out 13 while walking six and hitting a batsman.

Phillip Powers was the Isaly hurler, going the distance to absorb his first loss of the year against no wins. He allowed five hits while fanning five and walking three.

A walk with the bases jammed and a later error accounted for City Bank's first inning markers while another walk and two singles brought in the final run in the third. A single by Powers and two errors enabled him to circle the bases for Isaly's first run while a walk two errors and single by John Norris figured in the fifth inning tally.

The Bankers' hits were divided among five players — Ron Keckler, Larry Combs, Pete Porietas, Bob Gwinner, and Teddy Jolliff — while Gene Dulin, Powers and Norris collected the Isaly safeties.

Dwight Whetro hurled Goodyear to an easy win in the nightcap for his fifth win against three losses. He gave up six hits — the same number as losing hurler Gary Craft did—while striking out 12—two in each frame—and walking one. Craft, in losing his fourth game against no wins, fanned five and walked one.

Goodyear scored once in the first, twice in the third, once in the fourth and two more times in the fifth for its run production. County Bank's only marker came in the fourth on a hit and pair of errors.

Two doubles accounted for Goodyear's first inning run while a single and two more doubles in the third brought in two more runs. An error, passed ball and another miscue scored the fourth run while two errors, outfield fly and single resulted in two fifth inning runs.

Whetro netted two doubles to pace the winners' hitting attack while Jerry Smith, John Romano, Pete Sykes and Larry Aldrich all contributed a hit apiece. Romano and Sykes' bingles were two-baggers.

Terry Mohr and Keith McFann both had a pair of hits for the losers. Larry Roseberry and Craft also had a hit apiece. Roseberry, Mohr and McFann had doubles among their hits.

MARIONITE HEADS GROUP

BUCYRUS — Harold Windom of Marion is the new president of the Mount Zion High School Class of 1939 Association. He was elected at the association's sixth annual reunion held over the weekend at Aumiller Park here. He succeeds Robert Greenick of near Bucyrus. Mrs. Greenick was elected secretary - treasurer, succeeding Mrs. Edward Pritchard of near Bucyrus. The 1955 reunion will be held at Mount Zion School, southwest of here, on the third Sunday in July.

BUCYRUS—Police cruisers will patrol Aumiller Park regularly after 10 p.m. to discourage trespassing, Municipal Recreation Director Alex Kish announced today. Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Intimate Night Club

"The Blue Angel" is an oddity among New York night clubs. It was started in 1943 by a couple of individualists named Herbert Jacoby and Max Gordon and it was designed to bring to New York some of the intimate and offbeat quality of a Paris boite.

J. CROSBY

Over the years the entertainers that have paraded across its miniscule stage have been more offbeat and variagated and just plain different than anything you'll find in a Paris boite. (One of my former favorite boites in Paris has just banished the entertainers altogether and installed a jukebox where you can play Rosemary Clooney records for hours. It has lost my trade forever.))

I DON'T LIKE nightclubs much but, if I'd have to pick one, it'd be the Blue Angel. It was there I heard Wally Cox for the first time, doing his terribly funny monologues. Other former unknowns who got a leg-up at the Blue Angel include Yul Brynner, who has been playing the King in "The King and I" for about 4 years now but was then a folk singer; Eartha Kitt, Judy Holliday and Mary McCarty, to name only a few.

Whenever you get to thinking that there is nothing new under the sun, that show business has exploited every conceivable formula and routine, then drop into the Blue Angel. You'll probably encounter a comedian who works with pieces of string or a guy who sings nothing but Lower Slobbovian folk songs accompanied on three washboards. Or Eartha Kitt. Real crazy, man. It'll restore your faith in the ingenuity of actors.

THE BLUE ANGEL is now a television show on CBS-TV where it takes the place of Edward R. Murrow's "See It Now" (10:30 p.m. EDT Tuesdays), a show of somewhat loftier aims. Orson Bean, himself a graduate of the Blue Angel, is emcee. He's a crewcutting young man with an alarming array of white teeth who wears Brooks Brothers clothes and is the last person in the world you'd expect to be a comedian.

He's kept his comic talents pretty well under wraps on this show but he is a very promising young comic with a definite flair and style of his own. The first couple shows have been low pressure affairs. Martha Wright, another Blue Angel graduate who later played the lead in "South Pacific," sang a couple of songs on the opening show. A very funny man named Jonathan Winters did a comedy bit as a filling station operator in Smiling Jim's.

A COUPLE BILLED simply as Martha Davis and Spouse, a bit of matriarchy which I find hard to forgive, did a jivey piano song number which is pure nightclub enterainment. And a man named David Powell leaped about drumming on everything from kitchen chairs to the customer's heads. Mr. Bean strolled about introducing these people and telling an occasional joke. He has a lot more strings to his bow than that and I wish he'd employ them.

On the second show there were two very funny and fresh bits of comedy, one contributed by a man named Mickey Dean and a magician whose name I don't seem to have on me who tries and tries but never succeeds in pulling any magic: a real cute dance number by a couple named McCaffrey and Susan; songs by Jane Morgan who hasn't much in the nature of voice but is a real pro at putting a song over; and the Harmonicaces who play harmonicas of all sizes with great verve.

To an old patron of the nightclub, the TV version is decidedly watered down in ingenuity and sheer wackiness but it's still very pleasant and reasonably original summertime entertainment, especially in its comedy numbers.

A LITTLE WHILE AGO, I spoke about all those senators, freed from the committee hearings (Don't ask me what committee hearings. THE committee hearings!), who began springing out of the woodwork at every quiz show on the air, as mystery guest and what have you.

Now the House is getting into the act. On the opening show of "It's News to Me," one of the mystery guests was Rep. Alvin Bentley, who was wounded by the Puerto Rican nationalists in that wild gunplay in the House of Representatives. How are we going to keep the congressmen down on Capitol Hill now that they've seen CBS?

Crawford County Wheat Inferior to 1953 Crop

BUCYRUS — Crawford County's wheat crop, now being brought to market, is inferior in both quality and yield to the 1953 crop, agricultural authorities said here today.

This year's crop, according to elevator operators, is being grade "3 to 4" compared with the top grade given most of last year's crop. Yield also is down from 28 bushels to around 22 to 25 bushels. The 1954 crop weighs 57 and 58 pounds to the bushel against 60 pounds per bushel last year.

Prevailing market price during the early harvest season in 1953 was $1.93 per bushel. Current price is $1.85.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices in the stock market dropped rather abruptly today with a pickup in the volume of trading, but in the early afternoon there was a recovery from the lows.

Today's selloff following two days of moderately declining prices. Losses went to between 1 and 3 points at the worst. Gains usually were modest but some stocks moved up strongly in the face of the retreat elsewhere.

Because of the unusually fast pace of trading during the fall of prices, business pushed well past the two and a half million mark. Yesterday's total was 2,370,000 shares.

Aircrafts were under selling pressure in a profit-taking movement after their recent strength.

Also lower were the steels, motors, utilities, coppers, chemicals, electrical equipments, railroads, and oils.

Stocks selling off included U.S. Steel, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, Republic Aviation, Boeing, United Aircraft, North American Aviation, Consolidated Edison, Commonwealth Edison, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, American Tobacco, Climax Molybdenum, United Fruit, General Dynamics, Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Monterey Oil (on a lower earnings report), Cities Service, Texas Pacific Land Trust, and U.S. Gypsum.

COURTNEY MAKES RARE PLAY

BALTIMORE (AP)— When catcher Clint Courtney of the Orioles made an unassisted double play against the Yankees on June 2 it was only the 38th such play by a catcher in major league history. It happened this way. With Irv Noren on third and Bob Grim at the plate, the batter attempted a squeeze bunt on the third strike. He missed the ball for the strike-out and Noren was tagged out at home.

WHAT NEXT? Men, if the ladies invade the pipe smoking field, as Robin Brook seems to be doing as she lights up a zebra striped pipe which matches her swimsuit, there won't be much left in the men-only field but fatherhood. This fetching scene results from fashion show put on in New York by the Pipe and Tobacco council. It featured pipes for ladies'. The council estimates there are 150,000 women pipe smokers in the U.S., thinks there will be 500 per cent increase if the ladies are lured.

Slain Playboy's Ex-Wife Sues, Asks $250,000

Detroit Dentist Named In Action on Behalf of New Yorker's Children

DETROIT (AP)—A quarter-million-dollar damage suit against Dr. Kenneth B. Small has been filed by the divorced wife of the man he killed, Jules M. Lack, New York businessman.

Only last Saturday, the 31-year-old Detroit dentist was found innocent by reason of insanity in the May 29 pistol slaying of Lack, his pretty wife's suitor.

The suit, filed in Wayne County Circuit Court yesterday, asks damages of $250,000 in reparation for the lost potential earnings of the shooting victim and as compensation for the "pain and suffering" of Lack's two sons, John, 9, and Andrew, 7. It was brought by Mrs. Jean A. Lack of New York, ex-wife of the late industrialist, and David C. Lewis.

Mrs. Lack and Lewis are co-administrators of Lack's estate.

Lack, 45, was shot to death by the handsome society dentist during a Memorial Day weekend rendezvous with dark-eyed Mrs. Edith Small in southwestern Michigan.

Still in jail at Allegan, where the trial was held, Dr. Small said: "Seems to me that after the ruling of the jury they couldn't sue an insane man. Where would I get that kind of money? It sounds like baloney to me."

Allegan Atty. Leo Hoffman, who successfully defended Dr. Small, said the plaintiffs would have a tough time trying to make a case.

"They must prove that the trial verdict was wrong and that Dr. Small was not insane when he shot Lack," the attorney said.

Management Confident but Cautious

Industry Speedup Expected After Lull

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Heat waves rolling across the nation find industry today in the middle of a summer lull—but with confidence teamed with caution to set the foundation for what could be a slow and sound build-up when cool weather comes.

Many factories are closed for summer vacations. Others are closing for annual inventories. Torrid weather keeps customers away from stores in many cities. The summer breather—or the search for some cool air to breathe—is evident in many lines of industry and trade.

But businessmen are taking it calmly. They expect a pickup in a month or so. And from now on they'll have the advantage of better looking statistics to bolster confidence.

Gains Will Look Better

So far this year the business statistics have been compared on a year-ago basis with record-setting periods in 1953. But the trade turndown started a year ago, so that from now on any gains in industry and trade will look even better as they are compared with declining figures of last fall and winter.

Confidence teamed with caution has been the hall-mark of the year-long recession. It has distinguished it from other recessions.

Confidence and caution might look like strange team-mates at first glance, but they work well together.

Business wariness kept inventories from going too high during the boom. Prudence caused businessmen to hold down inventories when trade slackened with the end of the Korean fighting.

Confidence Important

But trust in the essential soundness of the nation's business and particularly in the general bright prospects for the future kept manufacturers from cutting back too sharply either on production or on plans for expansion and modernization to be ready for the pick-up so many of them expect.

Without this confidence — and without the caution that kept confidence from turning into runaway speculation — the adjustment of business to a peacetime economy could have been sharp. It could have developed its own chain-reaction and exploded into a really painful business set-back.

Prudence, however, tempered the boom in time and faith in the economy's future set management to finding cures for business ills rather than just taking to their beds to wait out a severe case of chills and fever.

They apparently are using the same combination of caution and confidence in approaching the fall prospects. Most of the manufacturers and merchants appear to expect better production and better sales figures this fall. But they aren't rushing to build up inventories in expectation of a boom.

Fears of a real depression which began to crop up about this time last year and flowered into full debate before the year's end have been set aside now by almost everyone.

The orderly and calm way that both industry and consumers took the first sharp turn-down of the opening months of this year has done as much as anything to bring about the slow halting of this decline. And the same calm attitude appears to be setting the temper of the slow upturn that is expected.

Since September the stock market has been reflecting the overall confidence of most investors in the general health of the nation's economy. The fact that so far stocks haven't staged any real runaway market may be due to that other teammate—caution.

Cooking Demonstration Planned at Ward Store

DIES IN PORTSMOUTH

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services for Robert L. Yates, 34, of Portsmouth, will be held here today. A former boys' supervisor of a Scioto County Children's Home, he was scheduled for trial July 28 on a statutory rape charge. He denied intimacy with two girl wards, aged 14 and 15. A World War II veteran, he died at Veterans Hospital in Huntington, W. Va., of a lung infection.

Urge House Action

Ohioans Ask $22 Million Federal Aid for Airports

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the backing of President Eisenhower, a group of congressmen today lined up in an attempt to persuade the House to put up 22 million dollars for a renewed federal aid to airports program.

The drive was led by Reps. Preston (D-Ga) and Jenkins (R-Ohio) as the House called for a vote on a $1,195,188,079 catch-all supplemental appropriation bill.

Preston said he would offer an amendment which would restore the money denied by the House Appropriations Commitee.

Chairman Taber (R-NY) of that committee said he would oppose the amendment. One of his subcommittee chairmen, Rep. Clevenger (R-Ohio) said he, too, thought the expenditure would be unwise.

The President told congressional leaders at the White House yesterday he wanted the airport program resumed.

Under the plan, the federal government would match money put up by local communities to build qualified airports.

In a House speech yesterday, Jenkins said he was particularly interested in getting federal money to help build an airport near the Atomic Energy Commission plant at Waverly, Ohio.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration, he told a reporter, had assured him the federal money for this airport—$400,000—will be forthcoming if Congress approves the program.

Clevenger told a reporter Ohio's entire share would be about $400,600, however, and that he could not see how all of it could be spent on the proposed airport near Portsmouth.

Several other Ohio cities — Columbus, Dayton, and Cleveland — also have requests in for airport money.

Defense Flops, Roosters Crow at the Wrong Time

LOS ANGELES (AP)—They were roosters, no stool pigeons, but they double-crossed their owner.

Mrs. Ednah Allbright, 59, had just testified yesterday that the roosters were trained to crow only on cue, for television and movie jobs. Just then the three roosters in the corridor started crowing.

The jury in Municipal Court convicted her of maintaining a public nuisance at her home in suburban Van Nuys.

SEEK LIQUOR AGENT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State liquor department officials want to question a Canton-Portsmouth district liquor supervisor who left the job before his "sick leave" was granted. Enforcement Chief Edward J. Allen said he did not know where John L. Kocevar was now but wants to question him about reported "shakedowns" of liquor permit holders while Kocevar was an agent in the Toledo area before assigned the Canton-Portsmouth district.

What Makes A Good Steak?

We agree with the U. S. Government inspector who answered the question this way: 1st, it must come from a corn-fed steer. 2nd. It should have little pieces of suet in the meat. 3rd. It should be hung in a refrigerator for many days, and last, it should be prepared by a chef who knows his business. Every steak we serve fills these requirements.

Last of Army's Horses Begin Life of Leisure

FORT RILEY, Kan. — (UP) — When the end came to more than a century of glory at Fort Riley, it came quietly with the single-file tramp of 14 aging horses into the rimrock hills just off the military reservation.

With the passing of the government-owned mounts from the Army, where the thunder of hoofbeats no longer has a place, there were few to remember the glory of anothe day when horses like Comanche, Milwood, Lady Balbec, and Dakota carried famous riders — Custer, Wainwright, Grimes, and Patton.

Col. Earl F. Thompson watched the horses walk off to a life of ease on the rimrock ranch of retired Col. John Wofford. Thompson remembered. He wasn't overly sentimental, but he talked.

He remembered how he brought Rascal, now 18 years old, home from Germany, trained him and showed him all across the United States and three times in Europe. He rode Rascal in the Olympic Games.

"Rascal has won half the silver in our house," Thompson said.

A GI remarked, but Thompson didn't hear, or pretended not to hear:

"I'll bet the only horse he (Thompson) ever rode was on a merry-go-round."

The GI wasn't old enough to know that Thompson is the only four-time member of the U. S. Army Olympic equestrian team and once was a high-goal polo player.

The horses included Milwood, favorite mount of the late Gen. Johnathan Winwright, hero of Bataan, Milwood is 20, Dakota, an Olympic jumper, is 26.

Master Sgt. Charles (Kayo) Brown watched the horses leave. He is a farrier for the veterinary detachment who has shod more than 40,000 cavalry horses in his day.

He said he was sorry to see the horses go, "but they're going to a good home—and they deserve the best."

And so they went. They held their heads up as they walked behind a little monster called a jeep.

Foxes do not hibernate and are as active in winter as in summer, even in cold climates.

Truckers Say Lausche Now Favors Probe

Governor's Remarks Cited in Fuss Over Highway Use Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Trucking interests claimed today they now have Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche on their side in favor of a congressional investigation of state highway-use taxes.

The industry has been fighting such taxes—in particular and axle-mile tax law on trucks in Ohio sponsored by Lausche himself.

The Midwest Conference on Truck Reciprocity in a statement said Lausche now appears to agree with them that a congressional inquiry into highway taxes is in order.

In support of this, the statement quoted Lausche as saying at the recent Governors Conference at Bolton's Landing, N. Y.:

"We must solve this problem among the states. Or maybe it is so important we can't handle it in 48 different ways and it is time for the federal government to look into it."

This, said the truckers, makes "abundantly clear . . . there is at leas one important phase of the reciprocity problem in which Ohio Gov. Lausche and the entire trucking industry are in complete accord."

An Akron congressman, Rep. Ayres (R-Ohio), has introduced a resolution asking a House survey on certain state taxes on trucks.

Said Ayres: "I am delighted to see that Gov. Lausche apparently finds no objection to the intent and purpose of my resolution."

Ayres claimed he had overwhelming support in the House for his resolution. In a poll, he said, all but two out of 250 congressmen replying agreed to vote for it.

Joseph Nellis, general counsel for the Midwest Truck Conference, said his group was confident the Ayres bill would be passed next week.

If it did, a subcommittee of the House Commerce Committee would investigate reciprocity taxes.

Ohio Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers yesterday said the controversial tax, in effect since Jan. 20, has become more acceptable to other states.

He said he came to that conclusion after discussing truck taxes at the Governors' Conference.

Bowers said:

"I think that for the first time, many of the states now fully understand Ohio hasn't cancelled any reciprocity agreements and doesn't intend to, and that our axle-mile tax law applies to everyone."

He said he plans to contact six states retaliating against the tax to see if they will change their stand.

The tax is levied against all trucks with three or more axles who use Ohio roads. Rates range from ½ to 2½ cents per mile according to weight.

Movie and TV comedian Groucho Marx and Eden Hartford, 24-year-old model, were married at Sun Valley, Idaho, in a simple ceremony witnessed only by Groucho's seven-year-old daughter and two Sun Valley Lodge officials. This picture was taken in 1952, as Groucho had a starring role in a stage play and Miss Hartford played the part of his secretary.

'Lost' Car Report Has Philadelphia Officers in Uproar

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police "lost" a Philadelphia Transportation Co. armored car reportedly carrying $300,000 yesterday and there was some mad scurrying about the city for a brief spell before it was found again—safe in a company garage.

The car was involved in an accident with another vehicle and several persons suffering minor injuries were taken to nearby hospitals by police cars.

Before leaving the scene, the officers radioed for added help to guard the contents of the armored car. Meanwhile, a company tow truck arrived and towed the disabled car to a garage.

Licking River Pollution Cited

Comes From Plant at Newark, State Reports

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Pollution coursing down the Licking River has killed thousands of fish, a state wildlife inspector said today.

The inspector, Wallace Laird, said the pollution which began Saturday has been traced to a Newark industrial plant on Raccoon Creek, a Licking River tributary.

Laird said hundreds of fish were swimming ahead of the poisonous wastes which moved as far as Toboso, 14 miles downstream.

Laird said he was alerted Saturday when he received several calls from residents along the Licking reporting dead fish were floating downstream.

A similar case occurred about nine years ago involving the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. A suit against the B & O is still pending in court.

Laird said the river has not fully recovered from the last pollution.

Test Conducted On Inmates of Reformatory

BALTIMORE (AP)—Three microbiologists, hard on the rail of a vaccine for bronchitis, grippe and "bad colds," will begin tests today on inmates of the federal reformatory at Chillicothe, Ohio

Dr. Thomas G. Ward, associate professor of microbiology at the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health, and two associates have isolated strains of virus which they think may cause acute respiratory diseases.

However, Dr. Ward said this should not be confused with the still-elusive common cold virus.

Dr. Wards' associates are Dr. Robert J. Huebner, chief of the virus and rickettsial section of the microbiological institute of the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md., and his assistant, Dr. Wallace P. Rowe.

During the last 11 months, they have carried on tests for acute respiratory diseases among 60 volunteers at the Maryland State Reformatory for males. By innoculating 250 inmates of the Chillicothe institution, they hope to confirm findings at the Maryland reformatory.

Goodyear Co., Rubber Union Continue Talks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the CIO Rubber Workers Union representatives met again today, trying to reach a contract agreement that would end a 14-day strike.

No progress was reported following yesterday's session, the first since July 7 between the union and the big company.

The union, asking a pay boost of 7½ cents hourly plus 5½ cents hourly to adjust interplant pay differentials, had turned down a Goodyear offer of five cents an hour.

Present pay averages $2.08 an hour.

International Harvester Plans To Lay Off 5,125

CHICAGO (AP)—The International Harvester Co. plans to lay off 5,125 employes this month.

A spokesman said yesterday the move stems from a drop in the company's sales of motor trucks and farm implements.

The company said the layoffs would affect employes in plants in 11 cities, but gave no breakdown.

ISSUE SETTLED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Normal cooperation and effort were reported at the Westinghouse appliance plant today after workers yesterday resumed regular shifts. Three times last week the plant's 1,000 production workers were sent home for what the company termed "slowdowns." Employes said there was no slowdown and that quotas were too high. Contract negotiations here on supplements to national Westinghouse contracts are expected to be resumed today.

Texas Town's Beauties Steal State Contests

CLEBURNE, Tex. (UP) — This central Texas town, known for 50 years for its prize Jersey dairy cattle, today is famous for its feminine pulchritude.

Johnson County, of which Cleburne is the seat, once was known as "The Jersey Isle of Texas." Now its girls have won so many beauty contests it is called "The Jersey Isle of Texas—Land of Milk and Honeys."

Seven Cleburne girls have won major state titles in the past three years. It appears that all a girl need to do to win a contest is to be from this town of 16,000.

Why?

"We've just got beautiful girls," said Tom Davis, operator of the Liberty Hotel and president of the Chamber of Commerce.

He added that Cleburne also cops many state titles because it has a spirited yearly contest of its own, the selection of "Miss Lake Whitney," who is the city's "Miss Texas" entry.

Cleburne girls were winning so many titles they finally formed an organization to decide who should enter what. Never more than three enter any one contest, but each entry has scored highly in any competition.

The beauty parade started when the Cleburne Times-Review in 1952 singled out Paula Lane, a raven-haired farm girl, to represent it in a baseball queen contest at Fort Worth.

Paula defeated 20 other beauties and went on to place second in the subsequent contest of the eight cities in the Texas League baseball loop.

Later she won the Miss Texas contest at Galveston and represented the state in the Atlantic City Miss America contest.

The Cleburne beauties are constantly on the lookout for other beautiful girls to carry on in case matrimony takes them out of the running.

Recently when titled Peggy Scallorn married, the beauty organization immediately filled the "vacancy" with Priscilla Harvey, a sultry type of beauty. She has not entered any contests yet, but she is ready.

WOLFPACK TAKES THRE

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina State's athletic teams have won three Athletic Coast conference championships during the first year of the new eight-team loop. The Wolfpack triumphed in the Cross Country affair, took the Swimming title and the basketball crown.

Budget Meal: Noodle Dumplings With Beef

Pre-cooked egg noodle dumplings are something new in the budget stretching line. When combined with meat, fish, eggs, cheese or milk you can prepare a nutritious meal in a very short time.

The following recipe for beef and noodle dumplings is one you'll want to keep and serve to the family year round.

Use:

3 tablespoons fat
2 large onions, minced
2 green peppers, chopped
1 pound ground chuck or round
3½ cups (1 No. 2½ can) tomatoes
½ cup bouillon cube broth or water
½ pound (½ package) egg noodle dumplings
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon ground oregano

Heat fat in large skillet. Add minced onion and chopped green peppers. Fry until tender, but not brown. Add ground beef. Cook, stirring occasionally, only until all redness of meat is gone. Add tomatoes, broth or water. Cover skillet. Heat mixture to boiling. Add egg noodle dumplings and seasonings. Mix together. Cover and cook 30 minutes, or until egg noodle dumplings are tender. Serve immediately in large or individual casseroles, or on heated platter. Makes 6 servings.

Operator of Delicatessen Adds Blessing With Each Sandwich

NEW ORLEANS (UP) —An Italian delicatessen owner whose small shop drowses on a side street in the historic French Quarter here can make sandwiches with 32 different kinds of antipasto, 12 varieties of cheese and 10 types of meat, but always he adds a blessing for good measure

That blessing is the most important ingredient of all in the mind of Biagio Antonio Montalbano.

Montalbano, 65, peers over his spectacles and wears a green-visored eyeshade on his balding head. He keeps his shop from 9 a.m. until midnight, and each time he hands a customer his purchase and change, he makes the sign of the cross and says, "God Bless you."

Sicily-born Biagio spends his days and nights in the nostril-teasing aroma of cheese and meat, reading his prayer book in the flickering light of scores of candles. The candles may be lighted by anyone who wishes help.

The shop is just as Biagio wants it—a mixture of religious images and pictures and fine foods.

The walls—and even the ceiling—are papered with holy pictures. A plaque behind the counter invites visitors to light a candle to the image of St. Joseph. The inscription on an image reads, "This is the only key of the fountain of grace today."

The shop's religious tone is the result of a promise Biagio made 22 years ago. In 1932 he began a mission of prayers which he has never ended—and he hopes never to end until his death.

With a sweep of his hands, Biagio says, "This place is something good and people come back to it from all over the world."

The shopkeeper is quick to ask a customer to extinguish a cigarette and to shush noisy children because, he says, "This place is holy."

Biagio came to the United States in 1907 and settled in New Orleans where he met and married his American-born wife, Mary. They have three children—a daughter, Josephine, and two sons, Ernest, 39, and Martin, 28, all of New Orleans.

Ernest is a bartender at a Vieux Carre Bar. Josephine is a housewife and mother. Martin helps at the shop.

In 1913, Biagio opened a grocery store, but switched to the delicatessen in 1925.

Biagio likes to reminisce about his customers. Like the ones—nine of them dressed in the robes of Roman Catholic bishops and archbishops—who entered his shop one night in 1938. The church officials were attending the Eucharistic Congress here. Someone had suggested going to Montalbano's "Angel of Peace" shop for some cheese. That was a highspot in Biagio's life.

But so, too, was the night that the husband of a sick woman came seeking help. Biagio asked the man if he believed in Jesus Christ. The two men prayed together, and the man left. Next day he came back to report that his wife, who had not been out of a sick bed for three-and-a-half years, was up.

HEINIE KNOWS HOW

WASHINGTON, D. C (AP)—Henry (Heinie) Manush, first base coach of the Washington Senators, can be seen before each game teaching the younger players the finer points of the game. During his major league career he won the batting title with Detroit in 1926. He hit .377. In 1928 he batted .378 but was nosed out of the championship by one percentage point. Manush's lifetime batting average for over 2,000 games was .330.

ARCARO IS DERBY CHAMP

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Eddie Arcaro might very well be called Mr. Kentucky Derby. The only jockey who has ridden five Derby winners gained some sort of an additional honor in the 1954 Derby. In the field of 17 starters were six horses ridden by Arcaro in the last two years—Goyamo, Hasty Road, Correlation, Sea O Erin, James Session and Admiral Porter. He won at one time or another with all but James Session and Admiral Porter. In the Derby, Arcaro finished fourth aboard Goyamo.

NATURE BEATS HUNTERS

DES MOINES (AP)—Rabbits may be the favorite target of American hunters, but the human attention they get doesn't make much difference to the cottontails, an Iowa Wildlife Research unit says. In a study area, more than half the season's crop of rabbits had been harvested by animal predators and nature before hunting started, and Nimrods accounted for less than 4 per cent of the final bag.

British Offer General's Aid To Pact Army

BONN, Germany (AP)—An informed British source said here Britain has made an offer to appoint Field Marshal Lord Montgomery to help run the proposed European army.

(In London, eyebrows were raised in surprise at this report. The British Foreign Office refused comment.)

Lord Montgomery is at present deputy to the supreme Allied commander in Europe, American Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther. The informant here indicated that if the six-nation European army actually becomes a reality, the British government has suggested it would make him British representative to it. He would be replaced in his present post in supreme headquarters in Paris, it was said, by Lt. Gen Sir Richard Gale, present commander of the British-Belgian-Dutch northern army group in Germany.

The idea seems to be to demonstrate to the French that Britain, though unwilling to join the European Defense Community formally and merge its armed forces in the European army, intends to maintain "close association" with this organization.

The French have failed so far to ratify the EDC agreement, thus putting the entire project in jeopardy.

Iron Ore Piling Up At Lake Erie Ports

CLEVELAND (AP) — Huge stockpiles of iron ore had Cleveland shipping firms — which control about 80 per cent of the Great Lakes fleet—talking today about tieing up ships by mid-November, a month early.

The Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn said there were 34,989,098 gross tons piled at lower lakes ports as of July 1, the most since 1938

The lakes fleet opened its season late this year, but because of reduced operations at steel mills, the vessels are still bringing down ore much faster than it can be used.

Bank in Ironton To Be Repaid Stolen $114,000

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—An attorney for Mrs. Fronia Sexton, said yesterday agreement has been reached for the 62-year-old grandmother to repay $114,000 she is charged with embezzling while president of the Citizens Bank here.

Attorney Henderson Dysard said Mrs. Sexton and her family reached an agreement with the American Surety Co., which refunded the money to the bank.

Mrs. Sexton, publisher of the daily Ironton Courier, resigned as president of the bank the day of her arrest.

Dysard said Mrs. Sexton paid the company a "substantial sum" in cash, executed a note, and gave deeds in trust and mortgages for the balance. Management of the properties would remain in Mrs. Sexton's hands, Dysard said.

Properties deeded in trust to the surety company include the Courier Building, the Ro-Na Theater and the Marlow Building.

Mrs. Sexton has been free on bond since her arrest last May 24. The charges are pending in federal court at Cincinnati.

X-Rays Reveal Injuries Of Upper Mishap Victim

UPPER SANDUSKY — X-rays taken Monday at Wyandot Memorial Hospital here revealed Miss Hortense Artz of Upper Sandusky had sustained a fractured pelvic bone when she was hit by a car as she was crossing Wyandot Ave. near the post office at 2:15 p.m. Saturday.

Driver of the car was George F. Kildow of Forest. Police said he had pulled off the driveway of the Standard Oil station, adjacent to the post office and was turning east on Wyandot Ave. when his car struck Miss Artz, who was crossing the street in the middle of the block.

Junior High Principal Named Galion School Superintendent

GALION—J. H. Blosser, principal of the Galion Junior High School for the past six years, was employed as superintendent of the Galion public schools at a special meeting Monday night.

He fills the vacancy created by the resignation of Marion E. Shank. Shank had two more years of a five-year contract to serve. He had been in the Galion schools for the last eight years.

Blosser was not an applicant for the position. His name was presented by Russell Nichols and the motion for his employment was seconded by Charles Cunningham after the five-member board had looked over some 21 written applications. Additional calls by telephone to individual board members brought the total to some 27 applicants.

Vote Not Unanimous

The vote to hire the new superintendent was not unanimous, and was made after considerable controversy. Board President Grant West voted with Nichols and Cunningham to employ Blosser. The other two board members, Robert Campbell and Robert Richsecker, in voting "no," explained that they were voting thus because there was no written application received from Blosser and that they did not know whether he desired to be an applicant.

Nichols prefaced his motion to hire Blosser by stating, "We have a man in our schools capable of the position." In answer to Campbell's inquiry if Blosser had applied for the position or contacted Nichols, the latter replied that Blosser had and that he had experience of school administration at Salem Township schools, Wyandot County, that he has a master's degree and a high record in addition to his experience in the Galion system as principal of the junior high school for the past six years.

No salary was stipulated in the motion. It was agreed that a month remained to decide this.

The superintendency was voted on late in the meeting after some time had been spent in looking through written applications. The earlier part of the meeting was spent in discussing types and size of school buses for purchase and in considering teacher applications.

Seek Two Buses

By unanimous vote it was decided to ask the state department of education to approve the purchase of two 53-passenger capacity buses.

The board held up employment of a social science teacher until his credentials from the university are received. Only two applications were on file for five elementary teachers needed and the board decided to have Supt. Shank make a selection from the substitute list. There are only five teachers on this list, it was explained.

It was decided to contact local heating firms if there are any to make bids for conversion from coal to gas at the East Elementary School. The board met with representatives of the Columbus Heating and Ventilating Co. to discuss their proposal for the work.

The superintendent was authorized to proceed with repairs to the walks and steps at the senior high school entrances.

Headed Right Way

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — David Joyner's unusual plea on a drunkenness charge paid off in City Court here yesterday. He admitted he was drunk but said he was on his way to church.

"At least," said the judge, "you were headed in the right direction. So drunk or sober, I'm going to suspend your sentence."

The Gun Wasn't Loaded

If President Eisenhower had wanted to stir up trouble, he could have found no quicker way than to suggest to the states that highway construction be taken from them and turned over to Washington.

But he did not make such a suggestion, despite an impression to that effect left by remarks in the recent Governors Conference at Bolton Landing, N. Y. These remarks have been enlarged on by people trying to pick a fight with Mr. Eisenhower.

The President had delegated Vice President Nixon to speak at the Governors Conference in his behalf, using ideas he had intended to discuss. One of the ideas was a 50 million dollar highway building program in the next 20 years to meet defense needs and the prospect of a population of 200 million people by 1970. The program would be put into effect, Mr. Eisenhower suggested, by federal aid to states on planning and financing, with "local government . . . the manager of its own area." Although the conference finally adopted a resolution saying it was "highly pleased" with the offer, critics seem determined to make it appear that Mr. Eisenhower is trying to elbow the states out of traditional authority over road-building.

He merely has suggested it is going to take 50 billion dollars' worth of highway construction to get abreast of the times and that the federal government should share responsibility and cost. Since it already is doing this and will enlarge its activities as the country grows, Mr. Eisenhower was confirming a fact, not proposing a policy.

There is a perpetual open season on presidents of the United States, but people who take potshots at them should make sure their guns are loaded.

Is Sickness Insurance Socialism?

President Eisenhower is strongly critical of the opposition that defeated his health insurance proposal in the House of Representatives this week — and with good reason.

He believes the proposal was misrepresented, misunderstood and mishandled by people more interested in their narrow prejudices than in the broad public interest. It was opposed by labor union lobbyists, because the union bosses want compulsory insurance, instead of voluntary insurance. They do not want to improve voluntary insurance; President Eisenhower does want to improve it.

Medical lobbyists opposed it because their organizations have taken the attitude that prepaid protection against the risk of illness is borderline socialism. At one time they even looked askance at ordinary commercial insurance in this field. It is doubtful if they tried to understand what was involved in President Eisenhower's proposal, which was first made in his presidential campaign in 1952.

The proposal calls for the formation of a reinsurance corporation with 25 million dollars of federal funds to protect private and nonprofit organizations that offer coverage against catastrophic illness. The reason for the corporation is to give the insurance organizations financial protection while they are gaining acturial experience with this new kind of coverage. Its importance lies in the fact it would plug up the most conspicuous gap in sickness protection —the unusual illness that uses up all ordinary insurance payments, all savings and plunges its victims and their families into debt.

The alternative to President Eisenhower's proposal would be something far more extreme incorporated in some scheme for compulsory insurance. That would be socialism. President Eisenhower is pledged to oppose socialism in the field of sickness insurance. His claim that his proposal has been misrepresented, misunderstood and mishandled is well founded.

Freedom by Demonstration

A German "kinderlift," patterned after the famous Berlin "airlift" of 1948 and 1949, invigorates faith in the long-term ability of the free to sell their way of living by demonstration.

The "kinderlift" operation aims is moving hundreds of German children out of Berlin to rural areas and towns in West Germany for summer vacations. Many of them will be given a vacation from Communist-controlled East Berlin.

The sponsoring organization is the American Conference of Women's Activities in Germany. Many children will be guests of American military and civilian families in West Germany.

This is a tiny activity compared with the larger program sponsored by the U. S. State Department to sell freedom by demonstration. Thousands of high school and college students from countries bordering the Soviet area of influence have been given a chance by the State Department to get acquainted with the United States as visitors. The American credo in this respect is simple and direct; it is almost naive in its simplicity.

We believe that to know us as we really are will cause us to be respected for our ideals and practices. While it cannot be proved that this is so, with so large a part of the world holding Americans in contempt, neither can it be proved untrue. It is still reasonable to suppose that if all barriers against emigration were removed more human beings would choose to live in America than anywhere else on earth.

Unbecoming Conduct

By David Lawrence

Flanders' Censure of McCarthy Raises Issue

What is "conduct becoming a member of the United States Senate" and what is meant by "contrary to Senate traditions" and what is "conduct that tends to bring the Senate into disrepute"?

These phrases, contained in a resolution sponsored by Sen. Flanders could, if properly investigated, take many weeks of hearings and would make a vivid television show because hardly a member of the Senate could satisfy any other member as to what is or is not "unbecoming" especially if grabbing, headlines and publicity is hereafter to be regarded as toboo.

Sen. Flanders, who has proposed the condemnation of Sen. McCarthy for his "conduct" as chairmen of the subcommittee on government investigations, has been getting a lot of publicity himself in recent days by his personal attacks on and innuendoes about the Wisconsin senator.

Flanders as a senator has a right to do this and anybody introducing a resolution to censure the Vermonter for these stunts on radio and television would be acting "contrary to Senate traditions" because there is no limitation on a senator's efforts to try to get publcity or to smear anyone or to discuss any subject whether or not it is pertinent.

THE VERMONT senator is quoted, for example, as saying that it is no business of the Senate Committee on Government Operations to investigate the presence of foreign spies in private industry as this has nothing to do with governmental operations. It must have been a misquotation because just a couple days ago the secretary of defense was telling the Senate Armed Services Committee that the Defense Department was badly in need of legislation on this very point as many contractors, engaged in defense projects, couldn't fire employes suspected of espionage without involving themselves in all sorts of legal complications.

As for the "conduct" of a senator, many things might be covered by that vague phrase. The core of the issue, however, is the expression of views or opinions that are unpalatable to other senators. It is the essence of good liberalism that a man should not be punished merely for the expression of his political views.

If the "censure" resolution technique is to become customary, then every time a senator doesn't like the views expressed by a chairman of a committee he can introduce a resolution and presumably get a vote on whether the "conduct" of that chairman is or is not "unbecoming."

Also, if the "censure" idea is carried to its logical conclusion, then there can be offered a resolution of "condemnation" any time a group of senators from certain states dislike what the people of other states do in electing certain men to the Senate.

The Senate might find itself asked to resolve solemnly that the people of the state of Wisconsin—or even the people of Vermont—are to be censured for sending to the Senate anybody who doesn't accept the political concepts of the other senators or their attitude toward the best ways of getting rid of spies and subversives in our government.

MUCH HAS BEEN said about McCarthy's "methods"—as if his procedures are materially different from those of other chairmen of investigating committees during the last 30 years.

Certainly he is guilty of intemperate outbursts at times and occasional unfairnss due to overzealousness, but former President Truman was often as intemperate and unfair and yet "Trumanism" was never the subject of a movement to impeach.

Indeed, it's strange how much time and energy and news space are being used up in trying to censure McCarthy and yet not a single resolution has been introduced to censure the Truman administration for having continued in its employ Harry Dexter White after J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, had warned against such a course.

SPEAKING OF unwillingness to reply to questions propounded by a congressional committee, Truman refused on technical grounds to answer any questions by a house committee last year and hence has never explained why, after the FBI evidence was given him, he wrote in subsequent months two separate letters highly commending White for his services.

Was this "conduct unbecoming a president of the United States?" Are some senators interested only in attacking the conduct of a man who is vehemently fighting the continuance of Communist operations in America and who is exposing especially the abuse of the Fifth Amendment privilege?

This provision of the Constitution was never intended to permit wrongdoers to conceal the knowledge they may have of the guilty acts of others.

The FBI cannot prosecute such prsons but congressional committees can uncover publicly certain facts on which prosecutions can often be based. That's how Alger Hiss was caught and sent to jail.

Where Ivy Twineth

By TRUMAN TWILL

Things are not always what they seem to be. For the last seven days I have seemed to be one of those dynamic personalities they write stories about in the business magazines—a ball of fire.

Ordinarily the most phlegmatic of dope-offs, I have been a veritable bundle of energy. I have darted in and out of stuff like a hummingbird in a honeysuckle bush.

I have fidgeted while at work, darting glances here, there and everywhere at my associates in a manner remindful of the busy-bee foreman who prejudiced me against the supervisory caste during my stint as a factory worker many years ago.

I have reached for the telephone with the impetuosity of an international financier awaiting a call from the Bank of England on a seven-digit deal. I have run my hands through the skin where my hair once was as if it were still there.

I have jumped up and down while watching television as if my mind were preoccupied with the battle of Armageddon, or at the very least with the outcome of the battle of the rice paddies in Indochina.

My hands have been busy every waking hour, tugging at my ears, rubbing my eyes, exploring beneath the collar band of my shirt, pawing at my ankles, scratching, rubbing, rearranging. I have been a Robin Roberts in mufti, which is baseball jargon for saying I have been as restless as a bullfighter with man-eating ants in his pants.

In a word—and the word is unprintable—this is time for my annual ordeal of poison ivy. Each year during either July or August, conditions are just right for what now is thought of as my annual energizer.

It is not necessary for me to touch any poison ivy to bring on this modified conniption. All that is necessary is to be where the ivy twineth and 24 hours later I begin to itcheth.

Little ruby-red blips pop out all over my epidermic casing. My eyelids swelleth. It suddenly becomes impossible to sit still while awake or to lie still while sleeping.

There is a kind of 24-hour-a-day nature dance consisting of rhythmic motions to bring relief to ivy-itching from the ankles to the head, always with a decent regard for popular opinion and the public taste. In other words, a victim who gets ivy poisoning all over simultaneously must never forget he may be under more observation than he wishes he were.

It is possible now to sit still for five minutes at a time. Moreover, it is possible to dream of becoming once more the most phlegmatic of dope-offs, able to remain motionless for hours at a time while the world rattles on.

They say the doctors have stuff now to ease this annual ordeal of poison ivy. If so, they can save it for a real emergency. A man can learn to live with poison ivy and even to grow fond of it as the only known means of spuring action during a season when many men vegetate and finally become so inert it's a miracle they ever become ert again.

For the time-being, I am as inert as anybody who ever lived and itched.

Thumbs Down

Week of Fateful Deadlines

By Jay G. Hayden

This is a week of fateful international "deadlines." Today is the day by which French Premier Mendes-France, has said he will either win a truce in Indochina or quit his job. Wednesday is the target date for a reportedly budding settlement of the eight-year-old argument between Italy and Yugoslavia over the Trieste border territory.

The reason for the latter deadline is that, on Wednesday, negotiations are to open between Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey to perfect military provisions of their already-agreed - to mutual-defense pact.

Italy is a logical member of that group but has been kept out by insistence of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia that no getting together by his country and Italy is possible until the Trieste impasse is resolved.

The American ambassador to Italy, Clare Boothe Luce, has been working hard for more than a year past to bring about a Trieste settlement, and a week ago the deal was reported as all set.

In the last few days notes have been flying back and forth between Rome and Belgrade and, on Friday, Slovene nationalists in Trieste instituted a strike in protest against being handed over irrevocably to Italian rule. Less than 10 per cent of Trieste city's population is Slav.

BESIDES MAKING UP a clear diplomatic victory for Mrs. Luce and Secretary of State Dulles, a Trieste settlement — if it eventuates — will be a help to U. S. and British taxpayers by bringing home 8,000 soldiers of those countries now sitting in Trieste to keep the Italians and Yugoslavs apart. The U. S. also has provided extensive financial aid to keep the poverty ridden people of the territory from starving.

After striving for several years to find a plan of appeasement between these embattled peoples, the U. S. and Britain announced last October that they were going to pull their troops out of Trieste. The joint pronouncement stated that the two nations are "No longer prepared to maintain responsibility for administration of Zone A consisting mainly of the city and port of Trieste and were transferring authority to Italy "at the earliest possible date." The result was such an uproar from the Yugoslavs that the occupiers hastily announced that they were staying on "for a certain amount of time," whereupon the Italians took over the protest. Nine months later the American and British soldiers are still there.

ORIGINALLY the main port of the Austro-Hungarian empire on the Adriatic Sea, Trieste along with all the rest of the Istrian peninsula was conceded to Italy after World War I. When Italy collapsed near the end of World War II, the Yugoslavs rushed in and would have grabbed all the territory except for American-British occupation of the Port of Trieste.

As time passed a modus vivendi was arrived at by which Yugoslavia retained most of the balk of the territory outside Trieste and the city and port were turned over to administration by Italians under protection of Allied guns. That is the situation still.

Before the American - British proclamation of withdrawal it appeared that both Italy and Yugoslavia would like a settlement by which the present division would become permanent — Italy keeping the city and port, and Yugoslavia the Zone B hinterland. Tito was no doubt prepared to accept that arrangement after a mild protest for home consumption, and Mrs. Luce thought the Italian prime minister at the time, Giuseppe Pella, was of the same mind.

After Tito set off his firecrackers, however, the counterblast from the Italian public was so strong as to scare Pella off.

ONE OF THE REASONS why the present situation is considered more hopeful is that the current Italian premier, Mario Scelba, is not so easily frightened.

Also, Scelba has big dreams for his country and for himself as its continuing chief of state. He has said that he is considering the "possibility of Italy joining the Balkan alliance." Actually, he visualizes his country as an eventual leader of that alliance, and the main bridge between it and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to which Italy already belongs.

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

From Our Readers

To The Star:

On July 23, the Department of Agriculture, through its PMA offices, will hold a wheat quota vote. But not all wheat farmers will be permitted to express their opinion. Any farmer raising less than 15 acres of wheat will not be allowed to vote, yet he must live and farm under marketing quotas and cannot sell one bushel of wheat until he has made certain arrangements to get a wheat card.

His wheat must be considered "hot wheat" and no one dare offer to buy it, under penalty of the law, until he gets this permission from the PMA office even though he has produced it by the sweat of his own brow, with his own equipment, on his own land and though the wheat legally is his own property.

He is refused the right to say if he wishes to live and farm under this system. Only larger operators who have stood to benefit most from government subsidies, price supports, etc., and might be more likely to vote for them, will be allowed to vote on the question. Only a shockingly small percentage of the total number of wheat farmers in the state of Ohio will be allowed to express their opinion.

As the balloting is held, both sides will not be represented at the voting places, as is the traditional American way. Only those whose job depends on a favorable vote for marketing quotas, subsidies, etc., will carry on the election. They will carry on the campaign telling farmers they have only one choice, which is to vote for wheat quotas or else unfavorable steps toward the farmer will be taken by their government. They will count the votes and announce the results. So, the farmers face this election with a stacked deck against them. How shockingly like the controlled elections held in communist-controlled countries of the world.

What is happening under this controlled farm program? What is becoming of our traditional American freedom and liberty guaranteed under the Constitution? What does the future hold for the American farmer if he places his destiny in the hands of politicians whom he must ask what and how much he can plant and harvest, politicans who promise to place more in the farmer's pocket on one hand, yet at the same time are taking more from his pocket in taxes, etc.

What has become of the so-called "ever normal granary?" Our warehouses are supposed to be bulging with grain, yet wheat piled up in huge quantities and kept off the market to force up prices can do no one any good. It denies our own citizens its use, it has priced us out of the world market, and the fear of dumping hangs over our own market. It is costing American taxpayers millions of dollars annually. Do we not now have a monopoly in grain operated by government control which means political control?

Every farmer should think very seriously about these matters. Farm quotas and allotments do not fit in with good rotation practices. What can be done with the acres above our quotas? Shifting to other crops? Will that not mean quotas on them next?

The law of supply and demand has always done the fairest job. Let us remember that if it becomes established practice that government bureaus can tell farmers they dare only raise so much or be subject to penalty of the law, then in time of scarcity they could also tell the farmer he must raise a certain quota or be subject to penalty. It's exactly the same principle, merely in reverse.

As free men, the farmers of this country have produced so that this has always been a land of plenty. Let's keep it that way. Plenty is a blessing and not a curse. We should thank God for a bountiful harvest and not commit the sin of destroying what God has been kind enough to provide for us.

Even though the cards are stacked in this election, I very strongly urge every farmer who can to cast a protest vote against marketing quotas. The hour of decision can no longer be postponed. It may be later now than we think.

Grantland Rice Arrives

St. Peter asked no ticket
Of this man at the gate:
The angels made no checkup,
There was no moment's wait.

"His seat is saved and numbered."
I heard the Great Voice say
As Peter smiled and whispered
"It's Granny . . . he's okay!"

As the father of four children was buried after being kicked and stomped to death by two teen-agers who seemed lacking in even the decend instincts of wild animals, a New York magistrate blasted the parents in the usual nationwide pattern, declaring, "It is about time parents started taking heed of what their children are doing and began keeping them off the streets during late hours"

More parents are taking heed than you think, yerrooner, but they are up against a terrible job, considering the opposition faced in the form of movies and TV shows, thriller-diller magazines and paper horror-novels which make crime seem routine stuff . . . And they get little help from "soft" jurists, dimwit parole boards, careless probation systems and other agencies which have pretty well destroyed the power of the police . . .

This country is full of judges who don't seem to know that many kids no longer have any fear of a cop, and feel sure they can beat the law, given a psychiatrist or two, a wishy-washy court and a little luck.

Small-sized taxicabs are now legal in New York . . . A midget doesn't feel lost in one, and a pedestrian trying to beat one across a street intersection doesn't feel quite so intimidated.

There was a shake-up in Procter & Gamble this week and we suppose more than one official, when asked, "How did you come out" replied, "No soap."

New York's subways will soon be aircooled . . . This will delight visitors but we are skeptic about its effect on natives, so long accustomed to reaching the office in no shape for work that it will take years for them to become used to arriving dry and keen.

Grantland Rice, dead at 73, was that rare human fellow who never made an enemy, nor even came close to it. . . . A Murfresboro, Tenn., and Atlanta, Ga., boy who made good in the city, "Granny" never lost the true touch of the southland.

"Victory At Sea," for a season on TV, and which this column insisted should be seen by every American, is now on the movie screens and is a pulse-stirrer.

The Hague has ruled that U.N. must give back pay and awards to U.N. workers Uncle Sam held to be helpful to the Commies. . . . .Ya mean we gotta pay for being crossed up! ! !

Frances Starr is in video drama and we never see her without recalling the boyhood days when at the old Hyperion Theater back home we saw her make her sensational first hit in "The Easiest Way."

Ye ed in travels all along the eastern coast has found few more picturesque summer places than one 75 miles from Broadway called Pine Orchard, overlooking the Thimble Islands of Long Island Sound, in themselves unique beauty spots. Quite a few New York businessmen have discovered the resort and the N. H. Road Bankers Express hooks onto a couple of coaches there every morning.

A builder who took the Fifth Amendment to avoid Senate Banking Committee questions, admits in a newspaper statement that he got nearly nine million dollars in mortgage money from a bank, spent only 6½ million, and kept the rest. . . . He asks, "What of it? Should I be called a crook because of good luck and good business sense?" . . . That just gives you an idea.

Move To Censure McCarthy Weakens

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—When he bats against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) in the Senate league, Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) needs a team and a scorecard. There's no sign he has a team And he's learning the score the hard way.

He has swung twice and missed. There's a good chance he'll strike out

Persistence may be all the two senators have in common. They've used it on each other. The 73-year-old Vermont Republican persists in trying to get the Senate to rebuke McCarthy some way, somehow

McCarthy persistently ignores Flanders, paying no more attention to him than he'd pay to a gnat. He dismisses Flanders, his most outspoken Senate Critic, with the word "senile"

For months Flanders has been after McCarthy with Senate speeches and television statements that got headlines For all their effect on the Senate it was like a batter warming up with popflies

Touchy Issue

But Flanders apparently felt ready for the big try He asked the Senate to vote McCarthy out of his committee chairmanships, which would be a shattering rebuke

Flanders had stepped into one of the most sensitive areas of the Senate All its members yearn to be committee chairmen, a job that comes to them not by brilliance or ability but by seniority, by sticking around long enough

Senators, being politicians have a heightened sense of survival Once they started something like this in motion — taking a senator's chairmanship away — it might happen to them someday

Besides, there were other considerations

In this election year 37 of the 96 Senate seats are at stake McCarthy has a host of friends well-wishers and admirers who might make their anger at a vote against him felt at the polls in November

That goes for Democrats and Republicans alike

Flanders Gets the Facts

Behind closed doors a group of Senate Republicans who plan their party's strategy in the upper chamber — the Senate's Republican Policy Committee — decided to tell Flanders about the facts of politics

They voted against his resolution, in effect killing it before it had a chance to be debated on the Senate floor He couldn't fight McCarthy and his own party's policy committee too He dropped his resolution in a hurry

The fact that he did and that the committee vote against him was unanimous, was pretty thorough evidence all Flanders had from the start was a pious hope He had no team He had been swinging in the dark.

That he had taken a stand against McCarthy may have been personally satisfying to Flanders It certainly got him a lot of publicity. But batting against McCarthy single-handed has been a useless occupation.

Asks Censure Vote

Undaunted, Flanders stepped up to the plate again, took another swing, and missed again This time he asked the Senate simply to pass a vote of censure against McCarthy. The vote was supposed to be taken today.

Late yesterday Flanders decided to postpone his request for a censure vote from today until July 30 This was one of the reasons he gave:

That the "Republican leadership" expressed concern that throwing the censure question into the Senate now might snarl up its efforts to get through with its regular work by the end of this month

But since Flanders is now going to wait until the end of the month to ask for censure of McCarthy, a milder rebuke than taking his chairmanships away, it stands a good chance of being trampled to death in the Senate's last-minute rush to go home.

Monkey Business Upsets Housework

BUFFALO, N Y. (AP)—When a small Rhesus monkey swung through a window into Mrs Ralph Rothang's fourth-floor apartment, housework went out

Tweny minutes later the vet, seizing one of the woman s blankets, pounced on the monkey, and Mrs Rothang returned to her housework — much more housework.
